A call to arms

City asks everyone to pitch in and clear hazardous storm debris

Like the Great Chicago Fire, the mid-July storm that swept southeastern Michigan leaving millions of dollars in damage in its wake is all history. But that July 14th storm remains a threat to the city of Romulus and its residents. City officials fear that the debris is not only an eyesore but a potential fire hazard. "It has become a safety hazard," said Robert Plank, assistant director of the Romulus Department of Public Works. "The branches have dried out and there is a chance that this stuff can go up in flames. We have already had two fires connected with this."

What Plank and the city officials need is volunteer help to clean up the mess. They're asking for citizens to mobilize a "work army" on Saturday, Sept. 20 to help clean up the debris.

"We're going to do whatever it takes to get the job done," Plank stressed. "We want every citizen to pitch in and roll up their sleeves to clear the debris." According to Plank, the worst section of the city is the northern tip where piles of branches still remain. However, the storm has also left a large quantity of debris alongside Merriman, Wayne Road, Middlebelt (Continued on Page A-3)

Center attraction

Romulus' new superintendent of schools, Dr. William Bedell (center), was introduced last Wednesday afternoon to all employees of the Romulus school system in the first annual staff get-together in the Romulus High School auditorium. Shown (from left) are: school board president, JoAnn Marviesin; school board trustee, Dr. Bedell; Dr. Jack Minzey, chairman of the Dept. of Educational Leadership, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti; and Richard Campbell, school board trustee.

Dr. Minzey was the keynote speaker, while Mike Zaher, chairman of the personnel advisory committee, gave welcoming remarks and made introductions. School board members and Dr. Bedell were introduced by Terry. The new superintendent gave a brief address and introduced members of his central staff. Dr. Terrell M. LeCesne, manager of personnel and employee relations, introduced the keynote speaker, who spoke on "Education in the Eighties." (ANP photo.)

Although city owes them money

Sheriffs say they'll continue to provide police protection

Concern that layoff notices to sheriff's deputies could result in termination of police services to Romulus by the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. were laid to rest, at least temporarily, last Thursday.

A hastily-called meeting by the chairman of the county Board of Commissioners sent Mayor William M. Oakley, Dennis H. Nystrom, corporation counsel, and Richard Sullivan, finance director, scurrying to downtown Detroit Thursday.

Monday, Oakley said the meeting which was called to hopefully settle negotiations for a new contract had been "meaningful" and that police services by the sheriff to the community would continue.

According to a recent letter from Nystrom to Council Chairman Mary Ann Banks, the Board of Commissioners wanted to agree upon a new contract with the sheriff's department and leave open the unsettled question of how much Romulus still owes the county for past police services.

As of April of this year, the county contended that Romulus owed them about $1.1 million, said Romulus Clerk Leonard Folmar.

"If that amount is correct and if the city had to pay the entire amount in one lump sum, it could not do it," stressed the clerk.

In his letter to Banks, Nystrom explained that the city should not be concerned with reported layoff notices being sent to members of the sheriff's department.

"I do not believe the notices will be acted upon," his letter stated. "I have seen literally hundreds of such notices issued in the past for various technical reasons, but in most instances, they are never activated."

Monday, Oakley said what he learned at last week's meeting with the county board did not spell out termination of police services by sheriff's deputies. He added that he was hopeful that on-going negotiations would produce a new contract soon.

Currently the city and the sheriff's department are operating under a five-year pact executed in 1972.

Since that time salary raises granted deputies by the county under new contracts with its union, and other factors, have increased costs of police services to Romulus by the county. In lieu of a new contract, the county has passed on these increased costs to the city.

The city has not agreed upon the new larger costs. In addition, the city has maintained that the county has not provided documented and detailed accounting of increased police service costs.

Last week's meeting was scheduled by the county with the hope that a new contract would be agreed upon. After that, the question of how much is actually owed by the city can be resolved.

Schools, union ratify contract

Salary increases of 28 percent over three years, optical benefits and additional life insurance are included in the contract ratified last week between the Romulus school board and teachers.

But, the WC-MEA-NEA, the union representing Romulus and 13 other area school districts, also gave up six major concessions, said Romulus Supt. William Bedell.

Last Tuesday night the board ratified the new 3-year pact by a 6-0 vote, with Trustee Mike Woods absent. Earlier in the day, teachers voted 242-2 to ratify the new contract.

Since teachers worked the last school year without a contract, the first year of the 3-year pact actually covers that period (1979-80).

Under the new contract, teachers will get an 8-percent pay raise for 1979-80, and a 10-percent pay hike for each of the 1980-81 and 1981-82 school years, Bedell said.

Beginning the second year of the contract, teachers will receive optical benefits and an increase in term life insurance coverage from $20,000 to $25,000, said superintendent.

Also, in the second and third years of the pact, teachers will be paid mileage expenses of 20 cents a mile and 22 cents a mile, respectively, he said. The old mileage figure last year was 16 cents a mile.

As one of the four school districts whose teachers struck for six weeks, Romulus has fared better thus far, explained Dr. Bedell.

In the Woodhaven school district, the board and teachers settled on a 29-percent pay boost recommended by a 3-member fact-finding panel from the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC), he said. In Gibraltar, teachers voted to get out of the WC-MEA-NEA, while Southgate is still negotiating, Dr. Bedell said.

That pay boost is 1-percent higher than agreed upon in the contract with Romulus teachers. However, Dr. Bedell said, the new Romulus contract calls for a 2-

The new contract with Romulus teachers calls for their union to help the school district and city possibly obtain up to several million dollars yearly for having Detroit Metro Airport located in the heart of the community.

In releasing details of the newly-ratified 3-year pact last week, Dr. William Bedell said the move to have the area compensated for the airport was one of six major concessions wrung from the WC-MEA-NEA in contract negotiations.

"The WC-MEA-NEA agreed to seek MEA (Michigan Educational Association) assistance on a state-wide basis to see that the city of Romulus and the school district receive recognition in their efforts to get state aid for the airport," explained Dr. Bedell.

Since taking over as head of local public schools, Dr. Bedell has pushed for some sort of financial compensation to the area because of the location of the airport. He succeeded in the new teachers contract to enlist their union's help to change legislation on the state level.

Dr. Bedell believes that provision of the new pact could be an important consideration for both the school district and city in terms of future revenues.

to CETA regulations, 12 city employees will be terminated as of Oct. 1, 1980, Mayor M. Oakley confirmed.

With CETA-funded city employees only permitted to work 18 months, the 12 affected employees had been given a waiver of termination Sept. 30 of last year and have been working for that time.

The 12 employees being terminated by CETA are: Patrick Hogan, the city's development written to CETA in the waiver, but we were informed that no provisions currently exist for that exclusion for the 12 employees who will be terminated," explained Hogan.

The 12 employees received written notices of their termination Aug. 29 in line with CETA regulations which require a 30-day notice of such action by the hiring agency.

The termination will affect four clerical workers, two DPW laborers, four building and maintenance personnel, one fire inspector, and one animal control officer, Hogan said.

All of the 12 employees are being paid above the maximum of $12,000 a year allowed by CETA, he said. When this occurs, the city pays the difference between $12,000 and the actual salary of the employee, said Hogan.

Hogan said that for the city to hire 12 new persons to be trained under the CETA program is not feasible. He explained that new personnel would have to be started at an entry-level classification.

"The new persons hired could not replace employees who had already been trained and who had been classified at a higher level," Hogan said.

He said that a year ago when a similar situation had arisen, CETA had come through at the last minute with a waiver of its regulations which called for termination of the 12 employees at that time.

For CETA to grant another waiver to the same 12 employees does not seem likely, he added.

Incumbent trustee

McCartney seeks re-election to WCC board

James R. McCartney, 7th District trustee for Wayne Community College, recently announced his candidacy for re-election to the college board. McCartney is seeking his second term after culminating what he feels was "the most progressive six years for Western Wayne County residents".

The 7th District includes

Belleville, Brownstown, Canton, Dearborn Heights, Flat Rock, Inkster, Huron, Redford, Romulus, Rockwood, Sumpter, Van Buren, Wayne and Westland.

McCartney was successful in expanding the colleges' efforts at the Milton Center on Henry Ruff in Inkster. "The facilities and the curriculum at the Milton Center, says McCartney, have expanded by leaps and bounds. During my term, additional college classes were introduced at John Glenn High School in Westland in an attempt to better serve area students."

The major focus of McCartney's efforts have centered around the construction of the Western Wayne Campus at I-275 and I-94 scheduled for completion in the Fall of 1981. "The community college in Western Wayne County is finally coming into its own", says McCartney. "I'm proud to be an instrumental part of this new campus and I'm finally confident that all of Western Wayne County is accessible to the community colleges' facilities."

Although McCartney receives no pay for his position as trustee, he is not a stranger to volunteer involvement. His long list of accomplishments include: Past President of the Westland Jaycees; Board of Directors, YMCA; Board of Deacons; Outstanding Citizen Award — Michigan Jaycees; Westland Distinguished Service Award; Honored by the Michigan

House of Representatives for Outstanding Service in Michigan. McCartney has volunteered his time and effort to SEMCOG and is currently serving as its Chairman of Council on Regional Development.

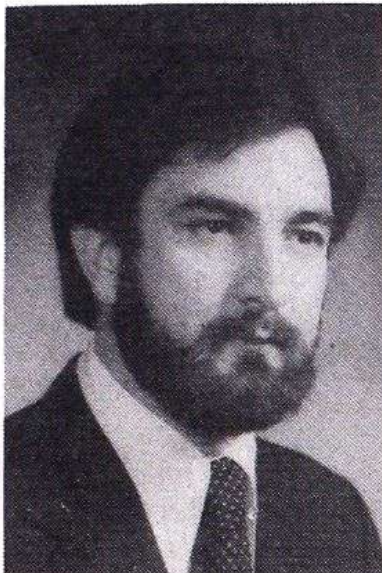

Currently self-employed in the insurance field, McCartney has previously held such positions as the first Economic Development Director for the City of Westland, Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce, and Wayne County Commissioner.

McCartney's family are no strangers to the community college either. Dency, Jim's wife, is an honors graduate of Wayne Community College and is currently a full-time student at the University of Michigan. McCartney's daughters Julie and Patricia are both graduates of Wayne Memorial High School.

McCartney feels that even though he has "had a substantial impact upon the progress of Wayne Community College, the institution still has a lot of maturing to do in order for it to more effectively serve the students of Western Wayne County and the remaining 20,000 students across the county."

"I feel my district has greatly benefited from my leadership on the Board of Trustees and that my positive efforts will continue to benefit the 7th District in the future," he said.

J. DOUGLAS PETERS

J. Douglas Peters of Belleville has been elected to the Board of Directors of the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM), it was announced by Joseph F. Paulus, president.

Peters was elected to his new post at the annual meeting of the Lung Association held this summer at the Hotel Pontchartrain, Detroit. He is the legal director of the Michigan Medical Schools Council of Deans, Medical-Legal Project in Ann Arbor and is an attorney with the law firm Charfoos, Christensen, Gilbert and Archer.

Peters' many activities include playing violin for the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra. He is the associate editor of the Medicological News and a photographer for the Boxing Digest.

He has published fourteen articles in legal journals and is presently working on four books on medicine and the law to be published this year and in 1981.

Peters resides with his wife,

Christine, in Belleville.

The American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan is affiliated with the American Lung Association, the oldest and one of the largest voluntary health organizations in the country.

ALASEM's community services include help for smokers who want to kick the habit, a camp for children with asthma, self-support groups for chronic lung disease victims and their families and a breathing equipment loan program.

Blood supply running short

Blood supplies are critically low, reports the American Red Cross Blood Services Southeastern Michigan Region. All blood types are in short supply, particularly Type O.

All of the blood used by the 75 hospitals in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties is collected, processed and distributed by the local Red Cross Blood Services.

According to a spokesman for the Red Cross, it must collect between 950 and 1,000 pints of blood daily to meet the hospitals' needs.

Donations have been averaging less than 900 each day. The minimum daily request for hospitals for Type O positive blood is 300 pints with donations less than 100 on some days.

Blood can be donated by anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 (with parental consent) and 65. Blood can be given every eight weeks but not more than five times in 12 months.

Adoption of blood takes less than an hour from registration to post-donation snack in the canteen.

There are nine donor centers conveniently located throughout the five county area. For additional information call 883-4440. A gift of blood is a gift of life.

Senior citizen nutrition program's in jeopardy

The fate of Wayne County's senior citizen nutrition program and other applications for grants from county commissions was being decided behind closed doors by members of the new Region 1-C Grant Committee.

County Commissioner R. (D) Scott, Chairman of the committee, who attended an agency in Allen Park, the already been rejected acting director of the programs, had submitted signatures and improper was 5 P.M. August 26. County Commissioner R. (D) Scott, Chairman of the county's Regional 1-C Committee, said it was her understanding that because the applications were for renewal grants, not new grants, they were submitted properly.

Edward Bill, acting as Technical Advisor for the new Region 1-C and a field representative for the State's Office of Service to the Aging, ruled that because Region 1-C is new, all applicants must abide by its requirements. Bill also displayed a letter from the county's Corporation Counselor, George Cross, asserting that such applications must be authorized by the full board of commissioners.

As a result of the Allen Park meeting the only other application regarding nutrition grants, that of Livonia's, was sent on to the Friday Grant Committee meeting for recommendation. It is expected to be sent on to the full board of directors of Region 1-C for final action September 13 at the Whittier Center in Westland. Region 1-C is made up of 34 communities with each providing one member to sit on the Region's Board of Directors. The Grant Committee is composed of representatives from that board.

The consortium was given permission by the county commissioners last month to utilize the county's senior center at 'J' building on the Wayne County General Hospital grounds, Westland. The facility also houses the county's nutrition kitchen which currently provides hot meals to 3,000 seniors each day. Commissioners Scott and James Rishid (D-Dearborn-Melvindale) said they were surprised to find that Mayor Edward McNamara of Livonia had his eyes on the county's food program as well. Although county commissioners gave their belated approval to DeVitto's application Thursday and then referred it back to the Human Resources percent guaranteed pay hike three years down the road when it expires and negotiations are begun on another new pact.

"Actually, the salary schedule during the third year of our new contract will be increased by two percent, but it will not go into effect until the first year of whatever new contract is agreed upon in 1982", the superintendent explained.

Since teachers most likely would get salary increases of around 10 percent in the first year of a new contract three years from now, the guaranteed 2-percent figure would be included in that boost, he said.

In arriving at an agreement on a new pact, Dr. Bedell said he "pressed hard" for a quick settlement to minimize any further disruption to students.

He said that Romulus' new teacher contract, at the end of three years, would place the school district maximum pay scale in about the same ranking it now holds among the 36 districts in Wayne County - in 16th position. Dr. Bedell said the average teacher salary in the Romulus school district, prior to the new pact, ranked 27th out of the county's 36 districts.

Since the school board and administration felt that most districts probably would settle for about a 26-percent pay hike over three years, the 28-percent figure agreed upon for Romulus was considered good in light of the concessions given up by the teachers union.

"The concessions given us by the union are ones that I'm sure that teachers won't mind and can live with," the superintendent said.

Concessions won by Dr. Bedell and the school board are:

1) A letter of understanding calling for formation of a joint committee whose aim is to improve performance of Romulus students on state assessment tests; the committee will be comprised of four union members and four administration staff members, one of whom will be a member of the school board;

2) The union agreed not to arbitrate supplemental contract assignments, such as those for coaches; instead, the superintendent will have that authority;

3) The union will give the school district 90 days before turning in grievances on probationary teachers;

4) Should a teacher be fired, the union will pursue reinstatement by either the Tenure Act or arbitration, but not both;

5) The union transferred additional control to the school district over laid-off teachers "bumping" into minor teaching areas;

6) The union agreed to have its MEA (Michigan Education Association) members work statewide to help the school district change state legislation that would financially compensate the school district and city of Romulus for inconveniences and nuisances caused by Detroit Metro Airport.

School crossing guard plan studied

In line with new state legislation, the Romulus City Council recently approved a 3-year contract with the Romulus school district to provide school crossing guards.

The contract, the first of its kind between the city and school district, complies with Public Act 227 enacted in 1978. It states: "School crossing guards shall be the responsibility of the local law enforcement agency having immediate jurisdiction."

According to Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, personnel and employee relations manager for the school system, a preliminary study made by the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. determined that six crossing guards will be needed.

However, Dr. LeCesne explained, that number could change should the sheriff's department decide more or less guards are actually needed.

At a cost of $5 each for the 180-day school year, six crossing guards would cost the city $5,400 a year, he said.

Although the school district employs and pays the crossing guards under state law, the city must reimburse the school system in two installments each year, Feb. 1 and Aug. 1.

The contract, which runs from July 1, 1980 through June 30, 1983, makes the city responsible for any and all judicial or administrative actions arising out of the employment of the crossing guards.

Prior to the preliminary study by the sheriff's department this year, nine crossing guards were used last year, Dr. LeCesne said.

In other action, council adopted a resolution which opposed charges assessed by the city of Detroit to the Rouge Valley District for recent sanitary sewer breaks at Dequindre and 15 Mile roads and at Hayes and 15 Mile roads.

According to the resolution, the Board of Commissioners of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Dept. wants to spread the cost of repairs to all users of the Detroit Wastewater System.

The resolution objects to the board's action in allocating repair and maintenance costs at the two sewer breaks.

A call to arms

— all county roads. Because the county is in debt to the tune of $20 million, it is slow in clearing the roads.

Mayor William Oakley has sent a directive to all of his department heads to place the city's manpower and material at their disposal and to "do whatever necessary to clean up the debris."

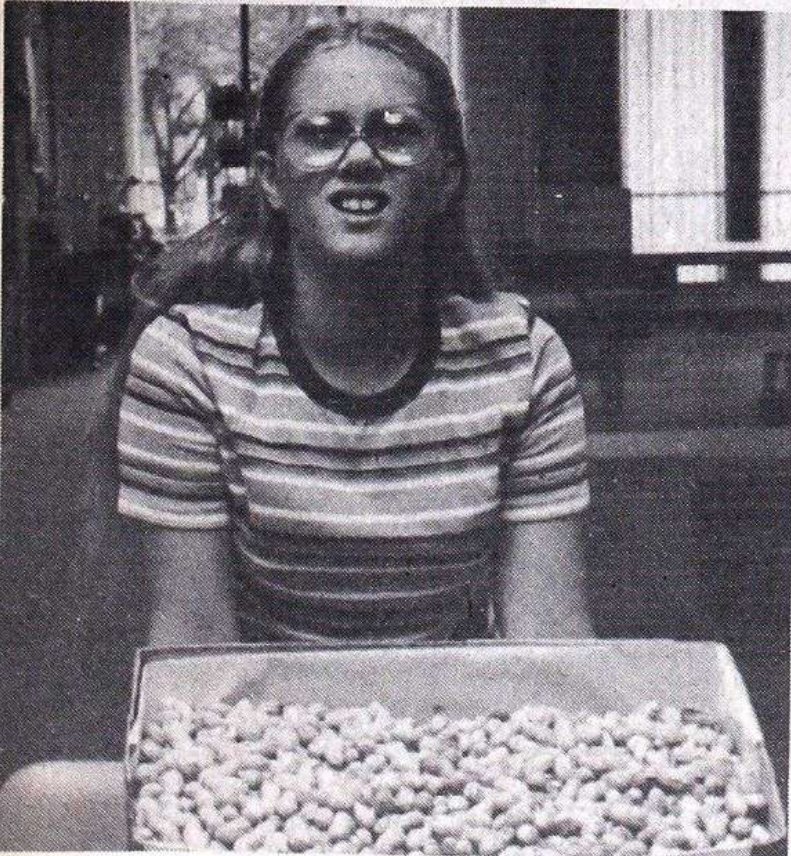

Mayor Oakley also has called upon each and every citizen, student, service club, political club, athletic club to step forth and help out.

"This is a voluntary effort," Mayor Oakley stressed, "but it is a project that is important to our city. The debris remains a major problem and now concerned people have an opportunity to help out."

"And I believe this is the first time in the history of our city where we are being called upon to show a united front in an effort that is very vital. I hope to see everyone there."

Persons wishing to volunteer their time are asked to gather at the DPW Headquarters' Building, 34100 Goddard Rd., at 8 a.m., Sept. 20. They are also being asked to bring with them trucks, trailers "anything on wheels that can remove brush." Groups will be given a specific sector of the city to tackle and they will be directed to drop sites.

City officials said they will have refreshments for those who participate in this, in what they hope to be an annual, massive clean-up. They point out that similar projects have been very successful in neighboring Wayne and Westland.

Just a test

Western Wayne County officials gathered with representatives of the Federal Emergency Management Agency last Thursday in Wayne for what was billed as a test burn of debris left from a devastating thunderstorm that swept through the area July 16. Area communities, stuck with thousands of yards of brush, are hoping to dispose of the debris through burning, but must meet

Details on teacher contract

Pointing to similar situations in other communities, he said, "Both Livonia and Hazel Park get about $800,000 a year for the nuisance caused by race tracks located in their midst. The tracks are on the tax rolls and both communities also receive about $1 million a year in taxes each."

The superintendent said if the Detroit Race Course (DRC) in Livonia is considered a "nuisance", then the airport certainly can be considered one also.

"Metro Airport is one of the busiest in the world. It takes some 9 square miles out of the very heart of Romulus and it discourages residential development and depresses property values," said Dr. Bedell.

The result, he noted, is a lesser tax base to generate tax dollars to educate local students.

Dr. Bedell said that although Metro Airport is located in Romulus, it serves the entire metropolitan area and most of the state.

For that reason, the local area, in this case, Romulus, should be compensated financially by the state for all of the inconveniences and nuisances suffered by its citizens.

The superintendent said he believed the most effective way to obtain state aid for the airport is by having legislation enacted, for that purpose.

He said that to take the matter to court and engage in time-consuming legal battles with the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the airport, would not be productive, in his opinion.

Should the Romulus school system and the teachers union, working hand in hand, succeed in their efforts, the sizable influx of fresh revenues would be a welcome and much-needed financial shot in the arm for both entities, said Dr. Bedell.

He said he has discussed the proposal with Mayor William M. Oakley and State Rep. Edward Mahalak and plans to talk to other city and state officials about the matter.

Fire marshals study ways to eliminate storm-caused debris

While 14 Western Wayne County communities await a decision, expected early next week from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), that can trigger the release of federal funds to aid those who suffered extensive property damage in last July's storm, county pollution control officers and local fire marshals are trying to devise a method for eliminating more than a million cubic yards of storm debris.

A 3-man team of FEMA officials, who flew into town last Thursday for a second look at the storm damage, a trip requested by Gov. William Milliken and urged by U. S. Representative William Ford and Congressman John Dingell, said they "didn't realize the damage was so extensive."

The FEMA officials — Robert Connor, deputy regional director; Thomas Klapperich, director of the Division of Preventative Health Service, Chicago; and Jack Henrici, fire representative for FEMA's Chicago office — toured the western communities with Wayne Chief Kenneth Warfield and Mitchell Kozak, director of the Wayne County's Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP).

Milliken has requested a "Presidential Proclamation of Emergency" rather than an "Emergency Disaster" designation in hopes of obtaining an estimated $7 million in federal aid for Wayne County alone. According to Connor, their recommendations will be forwarded to the FEMA headquarters in Washington and then referred to President Jimmy Carter for final action. Connors said he expects an answer within the week.

In the meantime, Wayne County's Chief Pollution Control Enforcing Officer Michael Maillard said some 14 communities with millions of tons of storm debris have two options in eliminating the piles — "either by burning or trucking to distant land fills."

"Trucking," he explained, "will cost nearly three times more than burning. We're still trying to find an efficient means of incinerating."

Dearborn's burn was shut down last Wednesday when fly ash and smoke drew complaints from local citizens. Last Friday, Maillard worked with Warfield and Fire Marshal Neal Prieskorn of Wayne in trying to force-feed a make-shift incinerator built by Lee Waldo of Waldo Excavation.

"If the pilot model is successful," Prieskorn said, "it is expected other communities will pattern their devices after it."

"The City of Dearborn has one pile estimated at 105,000 cubic yards," he added. "Trucking will cost the city $5 per yard. Wayne has more than 30,000 cubic yards and expects to pay more than $100,000 to the Waldo firm, if it needs to be trucked. Incinerating will save the city about $70,000."

In checking the Wayne incineration project, Maillard said he was watching very closely the impact from smoke and fly ash on residential areas and the resulting meteorological conditions.

A survey

Representatives of the U.S. Bureau of the Census will be contacting area households the week of October 13, 1980, as part of a special survey aimed at improving national employment estimates, Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, announced today.

Interviews will continue to be conducted during the next 12 months during the weeks that include the 12th and 26th calendar days of each month.

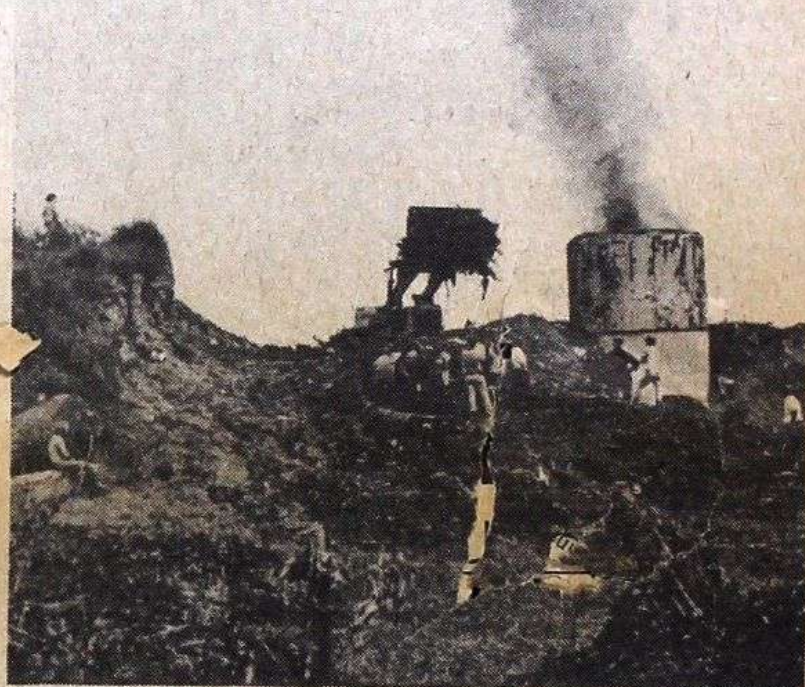

Nationally, about 3,000 households throughout the U.S. are contacted each month.

The survey was started in May, 1978; the results will be used to develop more complete and accurate estimates of employment and unemployment than have previously been available.

Interviewers will ask questions about employment, occupation, and related information such as age, sex, and marital status.

The survey is authorized by law under Title 13, U.S. Code. All information provided to interviewers will be held strictly confidential.

Individuals in any household cannot be identified, since the data are used only to prepare statistical summaries.

Special liturgy on Sunday

St. Anthony's to celebrate 60th anniversary

On Sept. 14, 1980, St. Anthony Parish of Belleville will formally celebrate 60 years of growth and development since its establishment as a mission church.

The celebration will include a special liturgy of praise and thanksgiving at 2 p.m. with Bishop Walter Schoenherr, bishop of the southern region, and the priests who have served St. Anthony's as concelebrants, a picnic dinner, games for the children, and dancing.

Fr. Raymond S. Skoney is presently pastor of St. Anthony's. He is assisted by Fr. Raymond Bucon, associate, and Rev. Mr. Arthur Jacobi, deacon. Sr. Joan Killoran, SSJ, serves St. Anthony Parish as principal of the school and Sr. Geraldine Deininger is coordinator of religious education. Edward Kuzel serves as president of the parish council.

St. Anthony Parish covers 66 square miles in Western Wayne County and embraces the city of Belleville and the townships of Van Buren and Sumpter. The parish grounds are located in the city of Belleville next door to Belleville High School.

St. Anthony's was first established as a mission to St. Stephen's Parish in New Boston, Mich., on Nov. 15, 1920. In a letter by the Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Detroit, Fr. J. Doyle, the mission was officially named St. Anthony's. At that time, a church building on Main Street in Belleville was purchased from a disbanded Episcopal congregation. As a mission, St. Anthony's was served by Fr. Alphonse Nowogrodzki, pastor of St. Stephen's.

On order of Edward Cardinal Mooney of the Archdiocese of Detroit, St. Anthony's became a parish on Jan. 18, 1946. At that time, Fr. Alois C. Guzicki was appointed the first pastor. Two months later, a house and two lots adjoining the church were acquired. The house was remodeled for a parish rectory.

The new parish grew and prospered under Fr. Guzicki's guidance with the assistance of Fr. Raymond Schlinkert. During Fr. Guzicki's assignment at St. Anthony's he founded the mission of St. Aloysius in Romulus and began the development of a parish site for St. Anthony's. In March, 1948, 29 acres of land fronting on Columbia Avenue were purchased for the establishment of a permanent parish site.

First construction on this land began in 1953 with the construction of a four-classroom school building with adjoining sisters' residence. Before this was completed, however, Fr. Guzicki was transferred to Detroit. Fr. Albert J. Foltz succeeded him on Sept. 29, 1953. Fr. Foltz completed the school, converting the proposed sisters' residence into two additional classrooms. An old home on land adjoining the church property on Columbia Avenue was purchased and remodeled into a home for sisters.

First classes were held in St. Anthony School in September of 1954 with Sr. Mary Richard, SSJ, as principal. Sisters of St. Joseph of the Third Order of St. Francis from Garfield Heights, Ohio, served as the school's first teachers and continue to serve the parish today in this capacity along with dedicated lay persons. In 1955 the school was enlarged to contain two additional classrooms and a cafeteria and kitchen. The cafeteria was designed to provide space for two additional classrooms if the need should arise.

Ground was broken at the Columbia Avenue site for a gymnasium type church on July 4, 1954. Completed on Christmas Day of the same year, this building served as church for 15 years. In 1957 a permanent rectory was also built on the site. The church property on Main Street was sold on June 7, 1955, and is now the site of a Gulf Gas Station.

Much of the work on the school, church, rectory and sisters' home was done by the men and women of the parish. These buildings are a tribute to the dedication and love of these parishioners for St. Anthony's.

The first school board of St. Anthony School was elected in compliance with the directives of the Archdiocese of Detroit in 1968.

On July 14, 1968, groundbreaking took place for the present church edifice. On Aug. 9, 1969, the present church was dedicated by His Eminence, John Cardinal Dearden of Detroit. The gymnasium type church was then converted into a gymnasium and social hall.

Fr. Foltz retired from the active ministry on Oct. 1, 1969, after 16 years of energetic service to St. Anthony Parish and many more years of service to the Archdiocese of Detroit. During his stay at St. Anthony's, the parish grew from a tiny, small-town congregation to a congregation of over 700-hundred families.

Fr. Foltz was succeeded as pastor of St. Anthony's by Fr. Raymond S. Skoney. Fr. Skoney entered the parish when the church was in the midst of change to meet the challenge of an everchanging technological world. During the late 1960s the church leaders of this country recognized that the time had come for the lay members of the church to assume their rights and responsibilities in church endeavors. Under the directives of Synod '69 of the Church of the Archdiocese of Detroit each parish chose from among its members a Parish Council. This council was to reflect the lived faith-life of the community and to assist the pastor in all phases of the religious and operational demands of the Parish.

After a year of planning, St. Anthony Parish elected its first parish council in March of 1970. Ted Kuckelman served as, the first president of the council. This council functions in conjunction with commissioners on Christian Formation, Christian Service, Administration and Liturgy and has done much to aid the growth in faith-living in St. Anthony Parish. Edward Kuzel presently serves as council president.

St. Anthony Parish also enjoys the service and had work of parish organizations established during its time of growth. The Ladies' Altar Society, Men's Club, Mothers' Club, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul and Scouting, and athletic organizations all contribute time and talent to St. Anthony's Parish Family and afford opportunities for many social endeavors.

In 1971 St. Anthony's celebrated its 25th anniversary as a separate parish. A special liturgy and dinner were held on Feb. 14 to mark this quarter of a century of progress. At that time the gymnasium was renamed in honor of Fr. Foltz as the Fr. Foltz Building.

In June of 1977, St. Anthony's Church in conjunction with the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Belleville-Ypsilanti Strawberry Growers Association sponsored the first annual Belleville Strawberry Festival. Since that time this festival has become an annual community event and represents the joint efforts of the churches and organizations of the community to provide a weekend of fun and entertainment for the area.

In June of 1978 work was begun on an addition to the school and Fr. Foltz Building. Because of the increased needs of the parish, a new cafeteria-meeting room and kitchen with adjoining storage areas were constructed to join the school building and the Fr. Foltz Building. The old cafeteria and kitchen were remodeled to make room for a school library, religious education coordinator's office, and school meeting rooms.

In Advent of 1979 St. Anthony Parish embarked on a year of renewal. This year was designed to reawaken within the community the threefold commitment to God, self and neighbor that is at the heart of Christian living. Designed by the Parish Council in conjunction with the Liturgical Commission, the year of renewal capitalized on the three major seasons of Parish prayer: advent, lent and eucharistic days and developed a growing awareness of God's presence, our personal relationship with him, and the extension of that relationship to others.

During the years the people of St. Anthony Parish have also had the services of assistant and associate pastors and deacons. These dedicated men have aided the pastor in the accomplishment of Parish duties and served the people of St. Anthony's well. Presently Fr. Raymond Bucon and deacon Arthur Jacobi assist Fr. Skoney in his pastoral duties.

The growth and development of St. Anthony Parish is a tribute to the work and sacrifice of many people. It is the task of the present to build upon this past in order to insure the continued growth of the parish. Much of the physical plant is completed. The task of the present and the future is the rightful use of that plant for the honor and glory of God and for growth in personal and communal holiness.

Census Bureau wants immunization data

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of September 15-19 to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, announced today.

The survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year to provide information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention.

These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country.

For example, in July the survey indicated that of the 105.2 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.0 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.9 percent. Little different from the May and June rates.

Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Huron athletic boosters net $2,916

The Huron Booster Club rummage sales over the Labor Day weekend netted the group $2,916 for its coffers.

Co-chairpersons David Whitehouse and Phil Baschal said they were pleased with the cooperation of the township residents in donating worthwhile items to the sale.

"Our sincere thanks for the many items donated to our sale. The proceeds of the sale will again help support the athletic program at Huron High School," said Whitehouse.

Last year the Booster Club financially supported a ninth grade football team and the girls' JV basketball team.

Last month, the Booster Club purchased new uniforms for the varsity football team, girl's varsity Basketball, and boy's varsity basketball at a cost of $5,559.

The Booster Club urges everyone to begin collecting usable items for next year's rummage sale.

IS DEATH EDUCATION COMING TO THE FOREFRONT?
For decades, there has existed a taboo against the teaching and even the discussion of death in schools, especially against bringing up the subject among children, from teens on down.

During the last ten years, however, all this has changed. Many colleges and universities offer courses on Thanatology, a study of death and its ramifications. Some high schools offer special classes and many churches conduct lectures on the subject.

The burden of coping with death is being made understandable because of such studies. Many executives read and saved the articles in Business Week, (April 5, 1976), "Coping with a Death in the Family." It was concerned with death education—psychological, legal and practical.

If you would like information on death education, call or stop by for a tour of our facilities.

6 fumbles, Warren Woods spoil Huron grid opener, 20-13

After perusing the first week scores, New Boston Huron head football coach Tom LaBeau is convinced that the Huron Conference is going to be as tough as the Star of India diamond.

LaBeau came up with that gem "because all of the teams appear to have a lot of talent. Riverview is in, and only two of our league members lost their openers. The league played some tough competition last week. "I'm predicting a dogfight for the conference title this year," LaBeau said.

Unfortunately for the Chiefs and LaBeau, they were one of the two victims. They dropped a nailbiting 20-13 decision to Warren Woods. Six fumbles helped in Huron's demise, moreover.

"It was a bad one to lose," offered LaBeau. "We completely controlled the game, but we made some mistakes, like six fumbles in key situations that cost us."

New Boston struck first. Fullback Tim Mandeville lunged into the end zone from the two to climax a midfield drive for the Chiefs' first touchdown of the season. That TD came midway in the opening quarter. Dave Satnick booted the extra point.

However, Huron's 7-0 lead caved in the second quarter when Tim Hocker returned a punt 72 yards for a touchdown with 10:45 showing on the clock. Later in the same period

Warren Woods took the lead for good on Chuck Rose's short sprint. That six-pointer was set up by a Huron miscue at the Chiefs' 20.

Warren Woods held a 14-7 halftime lead.

Huron and Warren Woods exchanged touchdowns in the fourth quarter with the Chiefs narrowing the score to 14-13 on Mandeville's two-yard run. The Chiefs elected to go for the two-point conversion and missed.

"I felt if we had scored that conversion we would have taken command," LaBeau said. "But it didn't work out that way."

With 1:30 left in the game Warren Woods capitalized on another Huron fumble and scored on a 10-yard pass play.

Huron racked up 231 yards as compared to Warren Woods' 97 and also looked good in the air as Satnick completed 13 of 22 passes for 159. The Chiefs also had a big edge in first downs, 14-5.

Mandeville launched his senior year with 32 yards on 13 carries while Mike Hasson grabbed eight passes for 85 yards.

"Warren Woods is noted for its defense," said LaBeau, "and it was state champs a couple of years ago and runners-up another time, so they have plenty of tradition."

Dave Teague, a linebacker, and Mandeville, also turned in excellent efforts as linebackers. Mandeville collected 16 assists while Teague had 14.

Huron will take on Monroe Jefferson, who edged Ida, 9-6 in their opener, Friday night at 7:30 in the conference debut for both teams.

Van Buren begins 2nd year of community ed. program

The Van Buren Public Schools Community Education Program will launch its second year during the week of September 22.

The Community Education Programs will continue to feature High School Completion Programs for the adults in the area, as well as Adult Basic Education Programs geared at the adult who has not completed their elementary education.

The program also offers a variety of leisure classes including: Ceramics, Holiday Crafts, Cake Decorating, Painting, Photography, Quilting, Home Wiring and Home Carpentry, Upholstery and Furniture Refinishing, Auto Servicing, Welding, Buying and Selling a House, Estate Planning (wills), Speed Reading, Dance Exercise and Swimnastic Exercise for Women, open swimming for adults only and family swimming.

Daytime programs for retired and/or senior citizens will be taking place at the Van Buren Township Hall (September Days) 699-7474 and Sumpter Nutrition Center, 461-9373. Interested seniors are asked to call those telephone numbers for program information.

New Programs this year include: a Children's Pre-School Program that will take place at seven of the district's elementary schools. Tuition for these programs are $100 for the 2-day per week program for the year and $135 for the 3-day per week program for the year.

Another new program this year is the Post-Graduate Program for students who have graduated from high school and are under the age of 20 years old. Eligible students can enroll in the regular high school day time program free of charge.

This program is offered to these students so that they may take additional classes they may not have been able to take during their years in High School.

A typical student may wish to take classes that may make them more employable, such as: typing, shorthand, business machines, auto body, auto-servicing, bookkeeping ... or they may wish to take classes that will help them in college or trade schools (at no charge) such as Algebra I or Algebra II, Chemistry, Data Processing.

Interested students are asked to call the Belleville High School Guidance Department for further information.

Registration for all Community Education Classes is taking place currently at the Administration Building, 555 Columbia, Belleville.

For further information, please call the Community Education Office at 697-9123.

Nutrition program

Committee for further action, it is not believed that it will halt the chances of Livonia taking over the nutrition program October 1.

Wayne County applications cover 'congregate' nutrition, home delivered meals, Information and Referral service, Minor Home Repair services and Day Care programs.

One other application, that of the Wayne County Health Department seeking approval for grant funds for Health Screening services was also rejected because of improper application, but, because it was the only application of its kind before the agency, it is expected to be reappraised when it obtains proper authorization from the Board of Commissioners.

Mayor MacNamara is Chairman of the Region 1-C Board of Directors and the man who masterminded the 34-community consortium.

Before the dissolution of the Joind Detroit-Wayne County Area Office on Aging Agency early this year total grants amounted to $11 million. This amount will now be split between Region 1-A composed of Detroit, Highland Park, Harper Woods and the five Pointes and Region 1-C, the consortium of the county's 34 remaining communities west of Detroit.

Tiger swim club seeks swimmers

Registration will be held this week and all swimmers between the ages of 4-to-14 are invited to join. If there are any questions swimmers may telephone Bev Powell (461-9339), Fannie Hemphill (697-4800) or Darlene Winnie (697-4641).

There is a $25 registration fee for the first child in a family and the cost is $18 for the second. The Tigers will be coached this season by Jeff Lidell.

Also, in order to qualify for the team a child must be able to swim the length of the pool.

Romulus seniors in need of volunteers

The Romulus Senior Citizens Center is seeking volunteers to deliver lunches to shut-ins in the Romulus area.

The lunches were previously delivered by CUFA (Community United for Action) representatives, but the service was discontinued due to the lack of funds.

Delivery takes approximately one hour, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday. If interested, please telephone Marilyn Masters at 941-0666, extension 254.

Cougars to face Northville next

After winning two of three games in their season opener against Romulus, the Belleville Cougars will regroup and travel to Northville on Saturday to take on the Colts.

Romulus' Flyers won the freshman game 12-6, but that's the only game they managed to take from the Cougars who bounced back and won the Junior Varsity game 7-0, then shut out the Flyers 24-0 in the Varsity confrontation.

Focus on photography

There are 3 basic photographs

In each of the approaches to picture taking the photograph must have a purpose. It could convey an idea, such as joy or sorrow, or it could simply picture an object as it appears at the time.

The record photo records the subject just as it appears. Identification photos used in licenses and passports are a good example of this type of photo. The subject is photographed without any distracting details in the background.

Another type of record photo is used to record events such as parades and family picnics. The camera is used as though it were the eye of the observer. The events are recorded exactly as they appear.

Record photos are often used in advertising brochures to display products or illustrate travel scenes.

The report photo is similar to the record photo because they both record the subject just as it appears. The difference in the two types is the subject matter. The report photo deals with events with "news" value. These photos generally tell a story. The subject may be a sporting event or a political rally. In both cases a story is told. In the sport-photo it may show the winning racer crossing the finish line ahead of all the others. The expression on his face will show all the determination and hard work he had put into the race.

The political rally photo could demonstrate the support the crowd is showing for a candidate. The size of the crowd turn out and the expressions on their faces reveals much about what went on during this event. The Artistic Photo

In the artistic photo you use your camera the same way a painter uses his canvas & brush. You attempt to picture the subject as YOU see it.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

Special Board Meeting, August 29, 1980

The Meeting was called to order by Supervisor Cullin at 6:30 p.m. Pledge of Allegiance. Roll Call: Present: Cullin, Welty, Deputy Clerk Dudick, DiDia, Domen, Attorney James and Sec. Marshall. There were about 100 interested citizens in the audience.

The experts involved in the meeting were as follows, James Cosgrove-Water Resources, Don Vilinis-Wayne Disposal, Dave Sprow-D.N.R., Glen Brown-Wayne County Health Dept., Al Bush-Air Pollution, Bob Ratz-Wayne County Health Dept., Carl Vogt-Air Pollution, Valerie Burgess-Resource Recovery, Mike Farrentino-Wayne Disposal.

Supervisor Cullin asked if any of the agencies involved would like to make a brief statement regarding the responsibilities of their department.

Glen Brown stated that Act 641 of Public Acts of 1968 regarding the landfill are regulated by State Law. All solid waste disposal facilities are licensed by the state, inspections are made approximately once a week by the Health Department. Wayne County Health enforces the State Law and not the Township Ordinances. Their primary purpose is to protect the health and environment.

Al Bush: Air Pollution Control is responsible for Odor or Dust problems.

David Sprow-The D.N.R. supervises from the state level all wastewater treatment plants.

Tim Toohy of Ecorse Road read a letter from the concerned citizens of Quirk Subdivision regarding the Health Hazard they feel the landfill creates.

George Roberts of Belleville Road stated he was concerned about the Health and Welfare of the Community. He also handed out a list of questions to be answered. At this time, Gerald McKelvey requested that the experts answer the following questions:

Is untreated human waste being dumped at this site? Glen Brown stated that; no untreated human waste is being dumped. Sludges are treated before they go to the landfill. This does not present any health or environmental hazard to the citizens.

Are there open lagoons on the site and what do they contain? Don Vilinis of the disposal site stated that there are 2 lagoons with monitored water base materials in them and are not a fire or health hazard.

Mr. Vilinis also stated that no P.B.B. contaminated cattle has ever been allowed at the site. The dumping of Industrial waste is monitored and logged in on each load.

Supervisor Cullin passed out a sheet to all citizens with the names and phone numbers of the agencies to contact regarding any complaints on the landfill.

Many citizens stood up and voiced their complaints regarding the odors, dust and flies.

Supervisor Cullin stated that the Township only issues a sand removal permit to the landfill and all other permits are through the state and or county. Mr. Farrentino's renewal on the sand removal permit for Van Buren will be in January of 1981.

Discussion began on the irregular hours that trucks are allowed to enter the site. Mr. Farrentino stated that due to the many storms we have had that it is necessary to have the site open some nights.

Tina LePendu questioned what percent of materials that are brought into the site are not sludge? Mr. Vilinis answered that there is about 1-5 percent.

It was decided that all areas of complaint would be investigated and on November 6, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. would be reported at another special meeting.

Motion Welty Support DiDia to adjourn meeting at 9:50 p.m. CARRIED.

Respectfully submitted,
Doreen Craven, Clerk

Can't pack up landfill troubles

Some of us still remember that famous song about "packing up your troubles," and it would be easy to dismiss what's going on in Van Buren and the now infamous "landfill question" by singing away our blues.

People in Van Buren want some answers, namely, what is being dumped in lands owned by Ford Motor Company and leased to Wayne Disposal. The mystery surrounding the composition of the material being dumped has stirred up the residents who have accused the township board of dereliction of duty, so the board organized a meeting with state health officials.

The meeting was held the Friday before Labor Day weekend; and because the holidays were upon them, residents say that township officials were trying to "cover up" again. We do not know if this true or not. We do know, however, that the residents deserve unqualified answers to what is going on in the township — if anything.

Quibbling, shooting flares at one another and shouting speakers down in meetings won't solve the problems. Persons with a unified interest and purpose usually win — believe it or not.

The political "ques" have formed a wedge to divide the township. They should realize by now that it's time to separate fact from fiction.

If the landfill is fertile land for disease and sickness, then it must be stopped immediately. It takes courage to right a wrong, as it does to admit a wrong.

If the public health officials say that the landfill doesn't contain health-hazardous contaminants or dangerous particles, then the operation should continue.

However, if the opposite is found to be true, then the operation should be stopped immediately and steps taken to neutralize the situation.

Verdict is in

Usually, city councils and township boards can live and tolerate district judges and judgeships. It's more like "peaceful coexistence."

And usually, when a city council invites a judge to attend a council meeting he — or she — obliges. After all a judge knows that councils approve budgets and even judges have to survive in a world dominated by economics.

However, Judge John Seiler of the 29th District Court recently turned down an invitation to attend a council meeting. That invitation was extended to him by Mayor Patrick Norton.

The reason for the invitation was that several alleged "dope houses" — that's what the good people on Winslow Street in Wayne called them — have been able to elude justice. The mayor told the residents of that street he would ask the judge to attend the "next meeting" to explain and seek solutions.

The judge refused to show. His "no show" was explained by his honor "because it would be highly prejudicial" to make an appearance in the council chambers. The judge informed Council that he could not listen to cases about the subjects, if they would come before him and would have to disqualify himself from hearing them. Therefore, he preferred to stay away.

The stinging reply to council accelerated a controversy which continues to be debated by both sides.

We feel the judge is right. To introduce the judge to both parties outside the courtroom and in a heated council debate would automatically prejudice any case he heard on the subject.

It is evident that the judge seeks justice for all and not publicity, although both sides have reaped their share because of the controversy.

For the record

Trustee answers 'Concerned Citizen's' letter

In response to a letter written by a concerned citizen in another local newspaper Sept. 3, 1980 regarding the regular township board meeting of Aug. 26, 1980, I would like to give my views on the issues raised.

Having worked as the Van Buren Township community developer for 3 years and now serving as a Van Buren Township trustee, I have attended not only "a board meeting," but 2 a month for approximately 3 1/2 years. This concerned citizen was fortunate to have attended a meeting during which several topics on the agenda sparked spontaneous debate. Most agenda items are very routine, regular business activities, such as:

1. Approving bills payable.
2. Supporting good causes as MD, United Foundation, Scouts, etc.
3. Accepting lowest bids
4. Approving payroll — replacing personnel
5. Replacement purchases to continue standard services, etc.

These kinds of items basically do not encourage debate.

I am somewhat proud of the fact that I sit on a board where each member feels strongly about issues and is responsible enough to its constituency to debate his point of view before voting. The criticism of dissension among two board members is, in my experience, rather novel. Frequently, if there is any criticism of that nature by interested citizens, the comments are "Don't they ever disagree?" or "How come most votes are unanimous?"

In response to the comments about board members attending an Army Corps of Engineers meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio, concerning hydroelectric power for our region, I have the following comments based on my experience with past and present board members.

1. Never have all of the board members been able to get away from their regular jobs to attend any conference or meeting. All of the trustees have full-time jobs elsewhere, on which they must depend for their livelihoods. Those meetings or seminars which are held during regular working hours are sparsely attended by trustees and councilmen due to interference with their regular occupations.

Occasionally, the fulltime elected officials are unable to attend these meetings and they are forced to decide who among them can best afford to leave the office. Frequently, simultaneous meetings are held, all of which require the board members to attend. When this occurs, we must decide which meeting would have the greatest potential to affect Van Buren Township and which members should attend those meetings. I would suggest "concerned citizen" should check the record and discover that even the few times a year when "any of the board members who can attend are approved to go" only a few (1, 2 or 3) actually attend due to their outside employment.

2. Never to my recollection has a board member flown first class. It has not been our policy to do so.

3. Sometimes, if the conference is a one-day seminar, it is more economical to fly there and back the same day than to spend hours driving, so the township is not burdened with the costs of transportation, meals, and overnight room costs. Other times the reverse is more economical.

Sup. Cullin, Treas. Welty and Grants Coordinator Hall drove by vehicle a further distance than Cincinnati, Ohio. They traveled to New York to represent the township for national recognition of our dam rehabilitation project. The trip helped open the door to more agencies from which Van Buren may receive grant assistance.

The comment the citizen made stating the board did "spend your tax dollars" quite carelessly appears to be contradictory. Earlier in his letter he complained about the debate between board members, when in fact much of that debate was on financial spending issues.

The concerned citizen stated the board lightly discussed an "unimportant" 38 percent water rate increase and a 14 percent sewer rate increase. It is true these topics were lightly discussed and referred to the auditor and water and sewer commission for study and recommendation back to the board.

By referring these items to the water and sewer commission, it was the board's intent that upon the recommendation the board could then decide with all of the facts at hand whether or not a rate increase would be justified for township citizens.

Finally, I'd like to comment that prior to elections, a time when people chose up sides, one can expect the backers of the incumbents to state all of the positive things they have accomplished during their terms of office.

Often, the "hopefuls" and their supporters state that the incumbents are incompetent and careless, and how "if they are elected" they will provide more and better service for less tax dollars.

I draw your attention to political advertisements, news articles, and letters to the editor for the past many, many elections.

I believe these loud political harangues uttered against each other by opponents prior to elections is part of our political history. Therefore, it is part of the expected election process.

Sincerely,
JOE DIDIA,
Trustee, Van Buren Township

Traditions that we should always cherish

The "times-are-a-changing", but let us not sacrifice our traditions in the wake of progress.

The Greater Belleville Chamber of Commerce is concerned that our community may lose one of its traditions — the celebration of July 4th.

We are also quite concerned with the increase in traffic, litter, rowdiness, and vandalism that has occurred concurrently with this annual celebration in our community.

Due to these problems, it has been rumored that we may not have a public celebration in the future. Before we, as a community, allow the public celebration of our nation's birth fall by the wayside, it is sincerely hoped that all the alternatives be considered to deter those activities that have marred this great summer tradition in recent years.

Perhaps a committee of public officials, businessmen and businesswomen, and private citizens should be established to seek alternatives to the problems. Let us all work together to maintain what traditions we have remaining.

Your vision

By MAURICE B. REIZEN, M.D.
Department of Public Health

Do your children look or do they see? There's a difference, you know. Looking is gazing in a certain direction; but seeing is learning, comprehending, sending knowledge to the brain.

We can't tell whether our children are looking or seeing, but this is how seeing works. When we look at something, each eye receives a picture. The two pictures reach the brain, and are blended into a single perception. If the eyes are crossed, or if the child has lazy eye — or if one eye is near-sighted or far-sighted — the two pictures can't be blended into one, and the picture to the brain isn't clear.

The brain, rather than doing a little fine tuning, as we do with our television sets, rejects the weaker picture. With years of rejection and no correction of the problem, the weak eye will become useless and its vision destroyed permanently.

Not only do some of these conditions cause eye strain and fatigue from studying (and maybe lower marks in school), but they also add to a child's accident risk. If he or she would be in an accident, the good eye could be destroyed, leaving the child permanently blind.

Although we can't recognize these problems merely by looking at a child, there is one condition that can't be overlooked, namely crossed eyes. Some people think baby's crossed eyes will uncross themselves. That is not true. Even at an early age, corrective glasses with an eye patch can be worn to strengthen the weak muscles and uncross the eyes.

Since we don't know how little children see the world, we owe them the right of an eye examination. Only the eye doctor can determine how good their eyes are. Maybe they're perfect; but about 20 percent of Michigan children have vision problems, so we must not take it for granted that our children's eyes are perfect. Corrections must be made early, if we are to be sure that our children have two good eyes. It's the only way we can be sure that our children are seeing — gaining knowledge — and not just looking.

When ideas clash

They looked as if they could have been your or my next door neighbors, but there was a tenseness, almost a hesitancy in their walk. The two men, senior citizens, felt the local editor had committed an injustice to their lot. They stood before him and asked to be heard.

"We thought we'd find an arrogant young man who is impervious to our needs," said the man, who later identified himself as Woodrow Ferrell, a 12-year resident of Wayne. "Some of the residents read your editorial last week, and we felt we deserved to be heard."

The editorial came out in support of a proposed $4.2 million swimming pool that Wayne is contemplating building. The construction would give Wayne and this area its first "Wave Tech" (creating waves indoors), and hopefully it would precipitate an influx of new business in our area.

Ferrell, a retired auto worker, was joined by Francis Bresnahan, a 40-year resident of Wayne who was very much concerned about the "economics of all this."

"Senior citizens and people on fixed incomes have problems, and we've been joined by an army of unemployed workers whose numbers total approximately 300,000."

"We can barely pay our taxes now. How in heavens do our city fathers expect us to meet their demands if this thing is passed next week?" Bresnahan asked.

Bresnahan then took out a white sheet of paper and handed it over to me. He observed me suspiciously and asked after I read it, "Will you print it?"

"Of course."

"On the front page?"

"Nope."

"Why?"

"Because it's an opinion — and the front page is reserved for news stories not opinions," I replied. The two men looked at me. I felt iron grilles were separating us. How can you explain to people not in this profession that there are rules and regulations governing us — unwritten as they may be.

The tight-lipped Ferrell spoke: "We know we don't understand the newspaper business, but if you promise us that it will be printed, that will satisfy me. How about you Francis?"

Francis nodded his head in agreement. So the manifesto is printed below in full:

PROPERTY OWNERS WAKE UP

We do not need a $4,500,000.00 Swimming Pool. We have many people out of work. Vote NO on this pool deal.

The State is short of money. The county is short of money. This City is short of money — even with a large Ford Plant in our little city. Being a little city with High Taxes, why waste money for a special election?

The Voters should be wise to this trick by now, the Council does not want a large vote on this swimming pool deal. We need more Policemen, and we should all support them in every possible way. This election is very important to all property owners.

Wave Pool unnecessary

EDITOR — The letter I received in the mail the other day made me more determined to vote against the "wave pool" in Wayne rather than for it.

I feel this is a real waste of our tax dollars. If the present pool at Attwood needs repair, then repair it. It costs half as much to fix the old as opposed to building a new one.

A few years back I voted in favor of the Wayne Community Center. Its full intention was to serve the entire community of Wayne, but hockey and figure skating took over.

Could it be that the Dolphins and Scuba Diving clubs will do the same with the super Wave Pool?

Why is it necessary to bring all recreation indoors? It really is kind of nice to go to the pool and swim outside in the sunshine. Summertime is when everyone likes to be outside as much as possible. The children have a whole winter of being indoors, including ice skating indoors, which used to be an outdoor sport.

I don't think you should take swimming indoors too. If you want to swim in the winter there is Wayne High, Y.M.C.A. or John Glenn.

Another factor is the cost to the people using the pool. The city's letter to the voters of Wayne failed to say how much, exactly, we would be paying to swim. Will it still be 25 cents? I really doubt it.

In this day and age everyone is concerned with cost. There aren't many places you can go for a quarter. Will the wading pool still be free? Being a mother of four, money is tight, and going to the present Attwood Pool didn't break me; but if the cost per child were to be raised to 75 cents or $1.00 per child, I'm afraid they wouldn't be able to swim as often as they do now.

It seems that more time and effort should be concentrated on the dying downtown area of Wayne. We have two shopping centers that were built and never filled. There are quite a few old buildings that are vacant and a theatre that is vacated. I would much rather get a letter from a committee concerned with bringing the city back to life not about a wave pool.

We need a super dupor wave pool here in Wayne about as much as we need another parking structure.

VB Board is comedy

EDITOR — To all interested citizens, if you need to release your tensions and frustrations, try doing it with a good laugh. If you're looking for a joke and a laugh or two I have just the place to find it. "The Van Buren Township Board Meeting." That's right, you heard it.

As an interested and concerned citizen, curious to see how our local government conducts itself, I attended a board meeting on Tuesday, August 26th, and was as dismayed as I was amused.

It didn't take long before the antics began. It soon became apparent that the real business of the night would see no positive action by our local heads.

In the absence of the supervisor, the meeting was ill-conducted, for all to see and hear. A war of words between two male members of the board soon proved that dissension was at its highest peak.

The verbal slashings continued, hot and heavy, for the duration of the meeting. It was a two-man show to be matched by none. The elapsed time of this show was approximately two and a half hours, and I never became bored.

It was a one on one show between two members who could agree on absolutely nothing.

They did manage, however, to agree on spending several thousands of taxpayers dollars, to send various members of the board to a number of seminars.

In one case a suggestion was motioned and so carried, to send any or all members to Cincinnati, Ohio, to attend a meeting of the Army Corp of Engineers, concerning hydro-electric power for our region.

The bottom line was, the township was to pick up transportation charges.

If this transportation charge is for air passage, it means the following charges would be paid by taxpayers dollars. By Official Airline Guide, effective August 15th, 1980 a roundtrip fare coach class would cost $140.00 per person. Now, if our elite were to travel first class the fare would be $168.00 roundtrip per person. Needless to say there will probably be other expenses that the township will cover during this trip.

An important 38 percent water rate increase and a 14 percent sewer rate increase was lightly discussed.

The attention of this meeting seemed to focus on arguments between board members and approving unnecessary expenditures.

My personal feeling about transportation to Cincinnati is, use a township vehicle and let the taxpayers pay for the total sum of two tanks of gas, as this destination can be reached in about four hours by surface transportation. Another strong feeling is, that only two people are necessary to attend this meeting, the supervisor, and the board member, who is directly involved with the French Landing Dam Project.

To evaluate my education in local government, let me say the following, "It is sharply clear to me that we have a government body that is very incompetent and whose only concern is to argue amongst themselves and spend our tax dollars quite carelessly." "It is apparent to me that we need a definite change, and I will vote for whoever opposes the current administration."

Thank You for taking the time to give your readers a concerned citizen's point of view.

No turns?

EDITOR — About three weeks ago, the "no turns" signs were erected at the intersection of Michigan Avenue and Henry Ruff.

Each morning while on my way to work, I couldn't believe the number of cars making illegal left turns from Henry Ruff into Michigan Avenue, especially since the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol unit is located at the same intersection.

This intersection happens to be on the city limits of both Inkster and Westland.

Whose duty is it to enforce the law? I feel it is the duty of both cities' Police Departments as well as the Sheriff's Patrols. Is each one waiting for the other to do the job?

Today was the crowning blow. I observed a scout car of the Inkster Police Department making the same illegal left turn into Michigan Ave. from Henry Ruff at 2 p.m.

If the Police do not follow the law, how can we expect the citizens to follow it?

Driving tests and life

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

I was sitting out on the porch doing battle with an army of mosquitoes when my neighbor came over and flopped down in the chair beside me. Pushing her steaming hair off her forehead she let out a long whooshing kind of sigh.

Naturally I asked her what was troubling her and I knew she had been wanting me to ask her because she immediately began telling me.

"Tomorrow I have to take my kid for his driving test. It isn't that I don't want him to take the test, but I know he's going to insist on driving home... and I'm scared!"

Huge shivers shook her body, and even though it has been four years since my last kid got her license, the memory was still strong enough to identify with those shivers.

After I had comforted her and let her see that somehow a mother does live through it if she's lucky, and after she had gone home to rest up for the ordeal, I stretched out on my lounge chair, looked up at the twinkle in the stars being squeezed through the heavy humidity, and remembered.

All of my kids learned to drive on the driveway outside the porch on which I was sitting. For the fifteen years before that fateful day on their sixteenth birthday they had zipped up and down that driveway as soon as their legs got long enough to reach the gas pedal. The school training was only a formality.

In my kids' spare time they took the car apart. That is, the boys took the car apart. Come to think of it, it is actually the boys who give mothers the biggest trauma about driving and cars. I particularly remember one of my boys whose greatest happiness in the two or three years before the state said he was old enough to drive, was in seeing an undressed engine on the lawn. It got so I thought the front end of the car had sprouted legs, or else my kid had grown a car where his head was supposed to be.

About twelve hours before he was to go for his driver's license he had come bouncing into the living room where I was trying to hide from a violent thunderstorm.

"I gotta go practice on the track," he said.

When his father suggested that he at least wait for the storm to let up, a worse storm broke in our house.

"I've got to go!" he shouted. "Tomorrow He's going to have us parking ... and I might flunk if I don't practice tonight."

"Since when did flunking bother you?" his father asked from the inside of the sports page. "I seem to recall a little matter of math..."

"This is different," the kid shouted. "If I flunk driving I'll be the only 16 year old in the nation that doesn't have his license. My whole future could be ruined."

"About your math..." his father began.

"Everyone flunks math sometime! Do you want me to be some kind of a creep or somethin'?" the kid asked reproachfully.

"Well, I'm not going," his father said dogmatically into the second page of the sports section. Then not wanting to completely damage the kid's psyche he said magnanimously, "Your mother can take you."

"Who, me?" I shouted. "I've got to clean the house."

His eye zoomed up over the paper and pierced me. "You've got to be kidding," he said.

So that's how I got to be out in the middle of a thunderstorm, skidding around figure-8's, violently reverberating at stop signs, and getting indigestion over fingernails.

Even though I had been through it many times before, I never seemed to know the ending. Sometimes I would get downright panicky that there would be no ending, for I had never figured out an easy way of saying, "Okay, that's enough. Let's go home." And make it stick. That night was no different. When he finally got tired of zipping up over curbs, bumping against stop signs and making bumping parks, he slithered to a stop and let me slide into the driver's seat.

My hands were shaking, my heart was churning up a storm in my chest, and if I had had an ulcer it would have been bleeding. I tried to calm myself as I turned the key and stepped on the gas pedal. That's when that kid went straight through the top.

"Man, you'd flunk out of a driver's training course," he howled.

Another look at sludge

The Romulus City Hall chamber was filled to capacity August 27, 1980 with young and old alike. Those present were concerned about the proposal to construct a sludge-compost facility here in the city of Romulus.

A flow of opposition prevailed till 11:00 p.m. as residents voiced their questions, feelings, fears and doubts regarding the project now being proposed to council.

If some felt the public was being "close-minded" about this issue, and possibly "behind the times" as far as standing in the way of progress...maybe those few should re-examine and contemplate recent events more closely and compassionately.

A wave of fear has swept our nation as we discover the mistakes of the past becoming a nightmare of the present and a threat to our future. Unless WE are the VICTIMS of such "SELFISH CRIMES," we have no idea of the impact or devastation people feel when they find out suddenly that their health, welfare, and livelihood are at stake.

I'm referring to the crimes of the Love Canal, Agent Orange, asbestos poisoning, Three Mile Island and germ war-fare experiments conducted in the 50's on 10 major American cities without the public's knowledge or consent.

On the contrary people — we're not being closed-minded one bit! We are being cautious and taking advantage of our human right to exist without the threat of one more mistake to add to all the rest.

There are risks included here whether people like to admit it or not. Man in his glory, with all his scientific background, college degrees, and experience, is and always will be subject and prone to error! There's evidence to prove that...

This particular facility is experimental in nature—due to the fact there are probably no statistics as to the effectiveness of it's operations as far as public health and safety is concerned...or economics for that matter too!

There will be an elementary school approximately 100 feet from the site to the west. Those living in a townhouse complex will receive it almost in their backyard. They and another elementary school as well as several homeowners will be in the direct path of west winds that could very well carry unpleasant odors.

Other residents in the vicinity of the proposed site, worry about the effects of property depreciation as another concern. What happens if the mere presence of this project indirectly forces homeowners and business alike to accept a loss for the sake of the disposal of 75 other communities human waste, besides our own?

Others fear being "bought-out!" The proposed site is simply too close for comfort and area residents are justified to be worried, concerned and opposed!

A gentleman referred to a "million dollar" revenue project for Romulus. The figure I was referred to was more like $225,000 revenue yearly. There's a big difference in those two figures! Also, there's some question as to the legality of the city accepting ANY revenue for this project...

What happens if they do locate here, conjoin a loop-hole in court and relieve themselves of any obligation to create any revenue whatsoever?

Romulus is in dire need of a "Renaissance" or "re-birth." Our boundaries contain one of the nation's finest airports that is yet to bear our name.

She accommodates industry overwhelmingly. But between properties consumed by the airport and industries, she's grown very little residentially. Surrounding communities thrive on the monetary support of Romulus residents whose shopping needs cannot and have not to date, facilitated all our needs.

The meeting August 27 reflected the kind of unity and concern Romulus residents have shown many times in the past.

The people showed respect in light of the high level emotion that draped the city hall chamber. We could be proud of our people, our council, and our mayor to say the least.

Certainly the sludge disposal problem exists and requires a solution — but not in the backyards of our schools and our homes!

Like the City of Detroit, we too are striving and fighting for our reputation. We've carried our share of social and economic problems at the expense of our pride as well as with burdens.

In order that we shed the many misconceptions and false assumptions made by others regarding our existence in this city, we need to encourage more positive and promising ideas for this city of Romulus.

Somehow the idea of a sludge-compost recovery facility in our midst only seems to hand a dark cloud of fears and doubts over our heads.

The realities of risks; the fear of a mistake; the lack of trust toward industry itself; the consequences of human error already come to life; all say to us we have a choice on the "Renaissance or Ruin of Romulus."

Wayne HB scores 3 TDs to rip Tigers

Everyone's singing Rogers' tune

Rick Rogers, considered one of if not the finest runningback in the long history of Wayne Memorial, showed some 4,000 high school fans why he is a serious candidate for all-state honors.

Rogers galloped for three touchdowns, rushed for 174 yards in 12 carries to help Wayne crush visiting Belleville, 21-0, in their opening game of the 1980 campaign.

Watching Rogers generate all that yardage and touchdowns was none other than University of Michigan head coach Bo Schembechler who made one of his rare appearances in Wayne. According to Wayne High athletic director Bill Hawley, Bo was interested in Rogers and didn't go away disappointed.

Rogers scored the first time he got a chance, a 44-yarder late in the first quarter. However, it seemed as if the solidly-built senior was going to have to play second fiddle to Wayne Davis.

On the opening kickoff, Rogers lost his shoe and was forced to the sidelines. On Wayne's first possession, runningback Wayne Davis carved out a nine-yard gain.

Then quarterback Rick Covault handed off to Rogers who dashed off 44 yards and found his way through Belleville's defense for his first TD of the evening.

After giving up that initial touchdown, Belleville's defense settled down while its offense dominated most of the second quarter. Coach Mike Colletta's Tigers received excellent performances from Keith Gates, who picked up 54 yards in 15 attempts, John Verrot, who had 23 in 11 tries and Mike Sampson, who covered 23 yards in five attempts. Covault, who contributed the two-point conversion after Rogers' inaugural touchdown, directed the Zebras on a 70-yard drive late in the second quarter that netted them their second TD. Rogers scored from three yards out with 1:15 left in the half. He also scored the two-point.

Wayne collected an insurance touchdown with 9:45 showing in the third period and again it was Rogers' doing. He broke loose for a 51-yarder. No one touched him. The kick for the extra point by Davis was good.

The Sports Meridian

Man from Ann Arbor was here

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Rarely does Bo Schembechler attend high school football games, according to his closest colleagues. The University of Michigan head football coach has enough on his mind and prefers to let his army of scouts look for those priceless blue sapphires.

However, on Friday night Bo and assistant coach Bill McCartney left the world of the Big 10 behind for a few hours and made it over to Elliott Memorial Stadium to catch what is considered one of the finest runningbacks ever produced in this area. The athlete's name is Rick Rogers.

Rogers, listed as 6-2, 204-pounds, didn't disappoint Schembechler or the 4,000 fans who saw the Zebra halfback give the visiting Tigers an orientation course in how to elude headhunting defensemen.

"At first we didn't know if we wanted to tell Rick that Schembechler was going to be in the stands," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter. "There was the pressure of first night and everything connected with it. However, we later decided that Rick and our players will have to live with it, and I felt they did a tremendous job."

Being the object of Bo's trip to Wayne could have rattled anyone, but Rogers showed he can handle it. He was a picture of confidence on offense as he scored the first time he was called upon, then came back with two more touchdowns to lead his team to a 21-0 victory.

Cognizant that Schembechler was among them, it is a credit to Wayne's fans and its administration that the "show remained on the field rather than in the stands." The particular attentiveness showed a person — personality — of Schembechler's stature could have easily turned the main event into a sideshow.

"We realized this," said Bill Hawley, athletic director. "We knew Bo was coming. That could cause any high school a problem, so we set up our people around him. We told the fans that the U of M coach shouldn't be bothered during the game, and that he would sign autographs during halftime or at the end of the game."

"I think it turned out well for everyone," Hawley continued. "Rick put on a show. Bo went away satisfied, and so did our fans."

It wasn't, however, a night to be a Tiger fan. Coach Michael Colletta and his club have found themselves what appears to be a formidable opening day opponent in Wayne. Since the resumption of the series between the two schools five years ago, Belleville has yet to beat the Zebras.

But it doesn't look like another long year for Belleville. They showed signs of their former greatness and I'm willing to bet that they'll win more than they'll lose this season — and that hasn't happened for a long time.

All those weary sportswriters

Weary people? Well, in my opinion it has to be those who pound out copy for a weekly newspaper. Just think a week ago it was all "softball news" and now we have to shift gears to football, cross country, girl's basketball, golf — and you name it.

It's an endless battle — and it feels all uphill.

When the lights go on again at John Glenn

And I wondered why Westland John Glenn rescheduled its usual night games for Saturday afternoon. Like the one coming up at 2 p.m., Saturday against Northville.

"The storm knocked out the field's lighting system," said Coach Chuck Gordon. "We hope to get back under the lights in a week or two."

The storm Gordon was alluding to was the one that swept through these parts in mid-July putting everything out of commission and causing millions in damage.

And if we never see another storm like that again we wouldn't be missing anything.

Coast is clear

Finding the coast clear, Wayne Davis picks up nine yards on the first play of the game against Belleville Friday night. Davis was one of the leading Wayne rushers in a 21-0 triumph over the Tigers.

Inexperience costs Spartans opener

"We looked like two different teams, and we were beaten by our own mistakes."

That's how Cherry Hill head football Coach Jerry Pawloski assessed his Spartans' opening game loss to visiting Dearborn Heights Annapolis on Saturday.

Annapolis struck for two touchdowns in the second quarter and hung on to a 13-8 victory to spoil the Spartans' 1980 debut.

"I could not believe I was looking at the same team," Pawloski remarked. "In the first half we couldn't do anything right; in the second half we kept them pinned inside their own 45. We're just too inexperienced."

The Spartans took charge after the second half kickoff and marched 65 yards in 11 plays to score on Mike Johnson's 10-yard inside TD jaunt. Johnson took a quick pitch from quarterback Sam Taylor and also ran in for the two-point conversion.

With four minutes left in the game Cherry Hill looked as if it would pull the game out as Taylor organized a midfield march that left the Spartans shy 15 yards of a touchdown.

"There's no question that they dominated the first half of this ball game," Coach Pawloski noted. "But we were in control all of the second half." The Spartans ran off 12 plays the first two quarters, while Annapolis managed only 16 the second half.

Cherry Hill had the edge statistically, for what it's worth. The Spartans picked up 10 first downs to the Cougars' seven and amassed 209 total yards as compared to 157. Tailback Cihio Ellis had 48 yards in tries, and also handled three punt returns for 60 yards. Teammate Johnson rushed for 41 yards in 12 carries.

On defense Cherry Hill received outstanding performances from linebacker John Martin who counted 11 unassisted and six assist while defensive end Jeff Sheposh had nine solos and two assists. Noseguard Don Defoe also knocked over nine ballcarriers and tackle Brian Nichols contributed nine solos and four assists.

When Annapolis tried to go to the air, defensive halfback Roosevelt Hunter preyed on the aerials. He slapped down three passes and, according to Coach Pawloski, "was all over the field."

Cherry Hill, with 6-3, 210-pound tight and Gerald Lee; center Greg Evans, 6-4, 245; and Bob Koscielski, 6-3, 235 pounds has suited up one of its biggest teams in recent years and the Spartan coach believes "we're going to still win some ball games."

"I've not given up on this club," he said. "We're starting two sophos on offense and have only four experienced people on offense. When they come around we'll be alright."

Whether they'll come around in time for Saturday's Tri-River Conference opener with Garden City West is questionable. Although West dropped a 12-0 opener to Howell, the Tigers are laden with experience according to Pawloski.

"They have a lot more experience than we have," Pawloski said, "and they like to throw the ball a lot. It will definitely be a good test for us."

After 15-6 loss to Shrine

Romulus to revamp offensive line

After a 15-6 setback at the hands of Royal Oak Shrine, Romulus High's football team will "return to the basics", according to head coach Don Foley.

Foley said he saw some "deficiencies in our offensive line which resulted in putting Knight (Marty Knight, senior quarterback) under pressure throughout the game."

"We're going to take a second look at the offensive line, and, believe me, we're going back to blocking fundamentals."

Knight managed to complete six of 18 passes for 26 yards and one interception in the Eagles' home opener Friday afternoon. Romulus compiled a meager 73 yards against Shrine's 191.

Although the offense had its problems, Romulus' defense, led by capt. Randy Champagne, a linebacker, Tim Summerfield, also a linebacker, and end Jeff Wensko, kept the strong representatives from the Catholic League from adding to their total.

Shrine capitalized on a shaky opening kick-off to score in its first series of plays. John O'Connor capped a midfield drive with a two-yard touchdown run and Dan Wrangler scored the two-point conversion. In the third quarter Shrine tallied on a 29-yard pass from quarterback Pat Auckland to Eric Essick and Ed Dolman kicked the extra point to put the visitors out in front 15-0.

"Some of the fans approached me afterwards and asked me why we started the game with an onside kick," Foley said afterwards. "It wasn't. Our kicker didn't get his toe into the ball."

Romulus put together a drive just before the half that looked as if it would light up the scoreboard with its first TD of the campaign. The Eagles moved from the Shrine 45 to the three in a drive that included a nine-yard aerial from Knight to Dale Eddings and a couple of Shrine penalties.

However, two plays that got Romulus nowhere and a five-yard penalty forced the Eagles back to the 27 where Knight unsuccessfully tried a field goal.

Romulus averted the shutout in the closing minutes of the game. Knight hit Mark Schick on a 10-yard touchdown pass with 10 seconds left in the game. That TD was set up by Steve Jackson's midfield interception which he returned to the Shrine 22 yard line. Six plays later 'knight had the Eagles on the scoreboard.

Johnny Holifield attempted the two-point conversion and was stopped short of the goal line.

Holifield chipped in 36 of the Eagles' 73 yards on 12 attempts, while Greg Webb had 27 on 10 tries. Champagne showed that the linebacking will be one of the stronger points in the Eagles' defensive network. He had 12 solos, five assists, one fumble recovery and a blocked pass. Summerfield also looked tough. He shipped in with eight solo tackles and four assists. Of those eight solos, three accounted for Shrine losses.

Romulus will remain at home this Friday to play host to Garden City East, a 27-6 loser to Riverview in their opener last week. But Coach Foley warns that Coach Gary Humphrey's Panthers are a well disciplined team, "and I'm expecting a good hard battle."

The Eagles will probably be without the services of sophomore tailback John Rupert Friday. Rupert sustained a hip injury in the Shrine game and is on "the questionable starting list", according to Foley.

DePorres blanks Vikings

"One game doesn't make or break a season, but if the first game the Vikings of Inkster High played is any indication of things to come, please send sympathy cards to Coach Arnie James."

The James' boys were blanked Friday by a quick-moving DePorres express out of Detroit, 26-0, leaving the veteran Viking coach to moan: "It was the most disappointing game I've been involved in."

"We just have to improve or else we're in deep trouble," James said.

And with the Vikings traveling to Madison Heights Lapeer Friday night, it could definitely get worst. Lapeer bombed Detroit Finney 31-20 in their opener.

James blamed "stupid mental mistakes as his team's major obstacle against DePorres. We looked good for a few minutes after the initial kickoff, then we weren't able to execute or got called for mistakes that were inexcusable."

But no one could blame senior quarterback Kim Hammons for not trying. Hammons was the lone standout in what proved to be a long afternoon. He completed five of 17 passes — not a good percentage — but breakdowns in the offensive line caused the bedlam. Hammons managed to pick up 48 yards rushing on nine tries.

The Vikings did get across the DePorres goal line thanks to a 40-yard pass from Hammons to Baskins, but that touchdown was nullified because a Viking lineman who was downfield prematurely.

Szukaitis: 'My best cross country team'

Glenn wins 'Early Bird' invitational

Coach Jerry Szukaitis' best cross country team in 17 years at Westland John Glenn may not be good enough to beat arch-rival, Livonia Franklin, he says.

"Franklin is awesome this year," said Szukaitis after his Rocket harriers captured their first "Early Bird Invitational" title. The invidational is hosted by Lincoln Park. "I feel I have the best all-around team I have ever had, but it probably won't help us to stop Franklin."

"Franklin has in my opinion an awesome team this year," Szukaitis reiterated.

Although he will be looking over his shoulders to get a glimpse at what the Livonians are doing, the veteran Glenn cross country coach was "very pleased" at his harriers' performances at the traditional prep opener at Lincoln Park.

Glenn's Pete Stephens established himself as one of the top prep distance runners in the area this season as he captured first place in the Early Bird. He covered the three-miles in 16:10.

Stephens' teammates Santo Campbell and Karl Steffens were third and fifth respectively while Randy Frank, Ray Macika and Tom Gibbons also scored for the Westlanders, finishing ninth, 12th and 14th.

The champs piled up 30 points to beat always tough Fordson which had 45 for top honors. Following the leaders were Dearborn St. Alphonsus (77), Riverview (108) and the host, Lincoln Park, with 114.

Glenn will return to its home course on Thursday to run Wayne.

Head-on collision

Belleville's Greg Brinkerhoff (20) maneuvers in low to make the tackle on Wayne Memorial's Darryl Hamlin (dark jersey) in Friday night's season's opener for both schools. Wayne remained Belleville's nemesis as the Zebras, behind halfback Rick Rogers' three touchdowns, crushed their out-of-league rivals, 21-0.

Robichaud avenges loss to Oak Park

What a difference a year makes. A year ago Dearborn Heights Robichaud retreated from Oak Park licking the wounds of an unexpected 26-6 loss.

On Friday, Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs avenged that loss, 20-0, to begin the year anew and with great expectations.

"We looked good," said Yauck who has the propensity for short sentences. "I didn't know what to expect. But, after that first quarter, we looked good."

Quarterback Sidney Brisbane, mired in problems as a junior, unleashed a flurry of passes and directed the Robichaud ground game with authority and showed he may be the Bulldogs' winning weapon.

The senior signal-caller hooked up with tightend Dave Reid for a 14-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter, then finished off a 30-yard drive in the third period with a scoring aerial to sophomore Wade Cook that covered 10-yards and ended the afternoon with a sixyard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

For the game, Brisbane connected on 6-of-15 passes for 99 yards. He also put two passes into the hands of receivers in the end zone. Unfortunately those passes were dropped.

Robichaud elected to go for the shoot for No. 2 at the expense of Allen Park Friday night, while Belleville hopes to recover from its 21-0 setback at the expense of Livonia Bentley. The Bentley game will bring up the curtains for the Suburban 8 Conference season.

Yauck feels that he must find a remedy for getting offensive consistency from his team if he is to produce a winner this year.

"We have to improve with each game — that's the key," Yauck added. "But I'd have to say for a first game it was a good one. The Bulldog mentor singled out guards Randolph Long and Rick Morais as playing exceptional well on the offensive line."

Camille Swazey had 46 yards in 12 carries and Bond picked up 45 in six tries for the winners.

Morais, who teamed with linebackers Kendrick Bond and Edward Williams were instrumental in stopping the Oak Park ground game which netted the losers an anemic 31 yards rushing.

And for the first time in his 17 years as a coach, Yauck started a freshman, Paul Green, who was 'super' according to the coach. Green had five solo tackles and four assists.

Robichaud will be out to make it two in a row Friday at 3:30 p.m. when Clarenceville, a 29-13 winner over St. Agatha in their opener, visits Dearborn Heights.

A football team can play superb all afternoon, but make one or two mistakes and it will cost you.

That's what apparently happened to Westland John Glenn in its opener on Saturday at Dearborn Edsel Ford. A couple of breakdowns in the secondary paved the way for the Rockets' 14-7 loss.

"I felt we played well enough to win this game," said Glenn Coach Chuck Gordon, "but they (Edsel) came up with a couple of excellent plays and we had breakdowns in our secondary which killed us."

"Also, we didn't move the ball well on offense with any consistency. We're going to have to smooth out the kinks in our offensive line," Coach Gordon added.

Edsel, under the direction of rookie head coach Jack Bridges, who replaced Jon Davis, scored what proved to be the winning touchdown late in the fourth quarter after a march of 89 yards. Quarterback Dan Betts popped through the Rocket defenses from the four yard line into the end zone to break a 7-all deadlock.

Seconds later the T-Birds scored the point after to seal the opening game victory.

Glenn was the first to threaten. Late in the first half Rocket quarterback Rick Discher directed the visitors from midfield to inside the T-Bird 20-yard line. It was a Rick Wilson punt return of 20-yards that ignited the Rockets. With Greg O'Neil supplying most of the yardage, Glenn reached the 18 where the T-Birds held and took over on downs.

Edsel broke a scoreless deadlock early in the third period when Betts and fullback Matt Mattern combined on a 55-yard scoring pass.

After an exchange of downs, Glenn scored the equalizer as Wilson picked off a Betts' pass at the Glenn 48-yard line and meandered to the three before he was brought down.

On the next play from scrimmage, O'Neil lunged into the end zone for Glenn's first touchdown of the 1980 season. Then, Jon Johnson kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7-all.

The T-Birds held Glenn's offense to a total of 108 yards. Discher managed to connect on only two of seven passes for 11 yards. Glenn was on the shortend of a 11-5 first down ratio.

O'Neil led Glenn's ballcarriers with 58 yards in 14 attempts.

Edsel picked up 185 yards passing and 99 for its rushing game. The T-Birds were penalized 35 yards as compared to the Rockets' 31.

Because the storm in July knocked out Glenn's gridiron lights, the Westlanders will play their first home game on Saturday at 2 p.m. instead of Friday night. Gordon & Co. take on a tough Northville crew led by senior quarterback Dave Greer and a couple of hard-running halfbacks Bob Thompson and Steve Corralino.

"They can come at you either way — in the air or with their ground game," pointed out Gordon. "They have an excellent team this year. We're going to have to get some consistently in our offense and erase those mental elapses on defense to stay with them."

Glenn also came away from Edsel with only minor bumps and bruises. The Westland coach said his squad was healthy.

especially the performance by his offensive line which opened up the holes.

"The execution and the blocking up front — where it really counts — was good," Coach Carter said. "We made some mistakes — defensively penalties that allowed them to control the ball — but I feel that over-all we played an excellent game."

Wayne runs up against Allen Park Friday night at home in a game scheduled for the home field at 8 p.m. Allen Park sneaked into the schedule when Riverview decided to drop out of the conference and align with the Huron League.

The Parkers shut out Schafer 20-0 and it is the first time in recent years that a Wayne grid team will have an opportunity to test the once-powerful Jaguars.

IMPORTANT SAFETY WARNING to owners of older John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractors

Maintaining the safety equipment on your older John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractor can be especially important. The original boot (or cover) for the battery's positive post on Model 60, 70, 100, 110, 112, 120 or 140 Tractors manufactured from 1963 through 1974 may have suffered from age or may have been lost or damaged. And if that positive battery post is not properly covered, there is danger of a spark causing a fire and bodily injury if you accidentally touch a metal gas can to the positive battery post when refueling the tractor. A more serious fire can result if you are not using a safety-approved gas can.

If you own one of the above models, John Deere wants to make absolutely certain that your tractor has the battery's positive post properly isolated. To make it easy—and safer—for you, we will send you a new cover, free. Just fill out the coupon provided below and mail it to the address shown. It comes complete with installation instructions and is not difficult to install. But if you prefer, after you have received your kit, make a date with your John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractor dealer and he'll install it for a small service charge.

Remember, safety and maintenance go hand in hand. The operator's manual can help you. Read it again. Keep your tractor as safe as it was when it was delivered.

It could be the most important thing you do today.

Tiger harriers edged by Adrian, 26-29

It seems that the adage 'richer getting richer' would apply to the Suburban 8 Cross Country Conference this season.

Perennial powers Edsel Ford and Dearborn are excellently stocked with talent, according to Belleville High's head coach Dave Medley.

"In the past the two Dearborn schools have been tough," Medley said after his Tigers were edged 26-29 by Adrian in the season opener. This year Edsel and Dearborn look even better than they did in previous years.

"We need a lot of improvement to stay on the same course with them,"

Medley warned.

Adrian sealed the victory when it picked up the first two places. Rob Wotring won the three-mile event in 16:36 and Belleville's Jeff Collins had the best time of any Tiger harrier. He finished third in 16:59.

The Tigers also scored with Alan Hoelzel (4th), John Conrad (5th), Allan Szemak (8th) and Mark Barrera (9th).

Belleville returns from a Tuesday afternoon trip to Eastern Michigan University where it met Ypsilanti on Tuesday to take on Romulus at home on Thursday.

Wayne cagers begin season

Coming off of a 13-7 season, Wayne Memorial girls' basketball team will open the home phase of the 1980 season tonight against Dearborn Divine Child at 7:30 p.m.

"I feel we have a pretty solid team this year," said Wayne Coach Steve Schwartz who is beginning his third year as the Zebras' head coach. "But there are a lot of teams in the area that are improved."

Wayne got its first taste of action Tuesday night at Ann Arbor Huron.

Parties always mean goodies...

At Belleville Library

The summer reading program at the Belleville Public Library came to a grand finale Aug. 21 when participants were rewarded for their prowess with books.

A festive party, complete with puppetry by the Clark Family Players of Detroit, was the highlight of summer's end.

And, too, there were cupcakes and punch and reading awards to round out the afternoon.

Old Ypsi houses theme of artist's current exhibit

The Old Town Heritage Art Gallery at 300 N. Huron St., Ypsilanti, is currently featuring the work of Carol Selby.

An exhibition of paintings in pen and ink and watercolors entitled "Character Studies of Old Ypsilanti Houses" will be open through Sept. 26.

Ms. Selby's collection depicts authentic 19th century homes which are currently being restored in connection with an Ypsilanti Program of revival and restoration under the auspices of the Ypsilanti Heritage Foundation.

In the artist's own words, these homes are full of "delightful rhythms afforded by the gingerbreadly 19th century scroll work. The houses match the drawings. They're supposed to be thoroughly enjoyed."

Heritage Art Gallery is located in the beautifully renovated 1860's mansion, the Old Town Hall. Situated above Riverside Park in the heart of the historic district, the Old Town Hall is one of Michigan's most outstanding preservations.

New arrivals

"And baby makes three ..." is the new tune being hummed around the Belleville home of Alva and Dawn Pluff these pre-autumn days.

The Pluffs, who reside at 3 Carriage Lane, welcomed their new daughter, a 7 lb.-8 oz. entry, at 4:30 a.m. Aug. 11 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Titled "Tamera Rene", she is the eight grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Straub of Belleville. Her paternal grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Brimer of South Rockwood and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pluff of Rapid River.

Great-grandparent honors go to Mrs. Frank Herron of South Rockwood and David Fenn of Belleville.

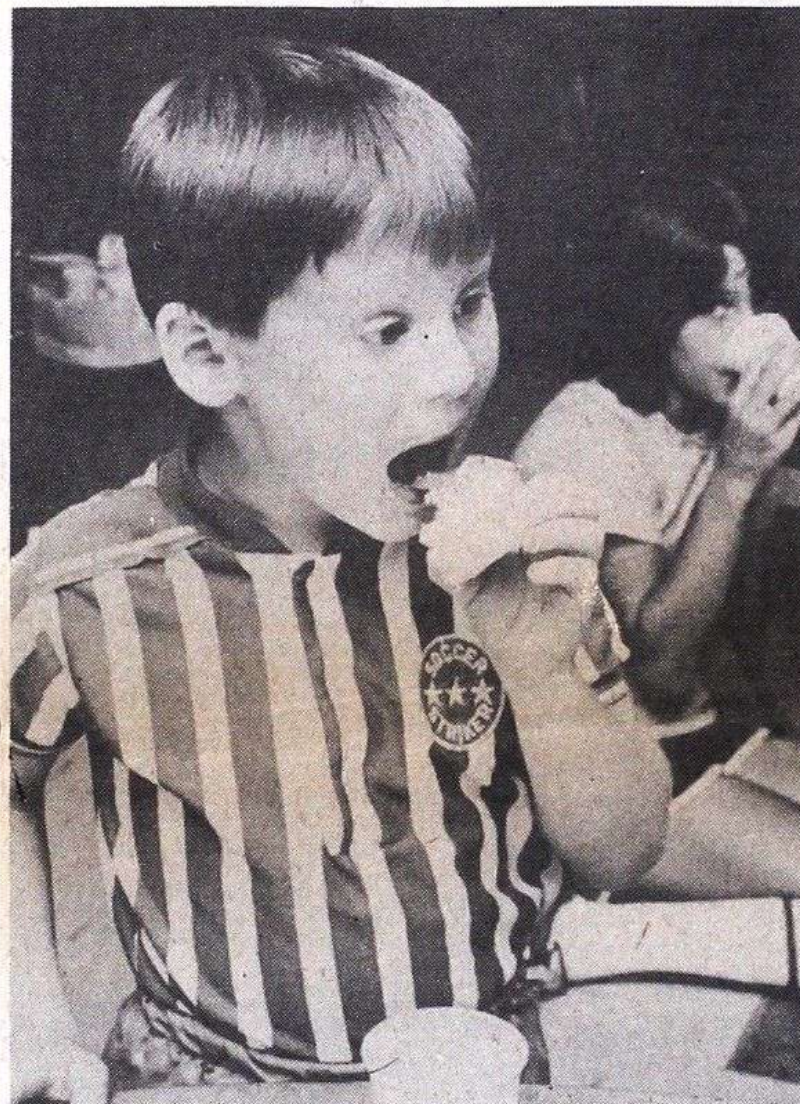

The new mother, the former Dawn Bruder, is on maternity leave from her teaching duties at Corey Elementary School in Romulus.

Jonathan Eric is the new addition to the family of Craig and Carolyn Davis of 1900 Cedar Brook Dr., Columbia, S.C. Born at 8:10 a.m. at Lexington County Hospital in Columbia, he weighed 8 lbs.-6 ozs. and measured 21 inches.

The baby was welcomed home by his 15-months-old twin sisters, Jennifer Elise and Julie Erin. Their grandmother, Ruth Davis, and 13-year-old cousin, Theresa Davis, both of Belleville, motored south to welcome the new heir and to help care for the twins. Mrs. Alice Jurn of Ypsilanti, the children's great-grandmother, also made the trip.

Word of the infant's birth also went to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Krieger of Snellville, Ga., the proud maternal grandparents, and another great-grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Vogan of Toledo, O.

Mrs. Davis is the former Carolyn Krieger.

Stork shower in duplicate held Aug. 31

A double cradle shower was held Sunday, Aug. 31 at the Harmony Lane home of Mrs. Vernon Ketchum with two honorees being Heidi Ketchum of Kalamazoo and Denise Esbrook of Redford.

The hostess was assisted during the afternoon by her son and daughter-in-law, Douglas and Judith Ketchum of Otsego, and Greg and Mary Jo Gabbert of Redford.

Some 30 relatives from Detroit, Livonia, Westland, Otsego and Medina, Ohio enjoyed a buffet dinner and several games appropriate to the occasion.

The two expectant mothers were assisted in opening their gifts by their husbands, Tom Ketchum and James Esbrook.

College tips from Weight Watchers

"When students are off to college, they often find keeping their weight down is as hard as keeping their grades up!" says Florine Mark, President and Director of Weight Watchers for this area.

"For many young adults this is their first opportunity to exercise freedom of choice in their eating," says Ms. Mark, Area Director of Weight Watchers. "Left to their own devices, they deprive themselves of the well balanced meals which were served at home. Breakfast is skipped. Lunch and dinner are taken on the run, favoring menus overloaded with fats and refined sugar. Further, their physical activity level is often curtailed as they give up spare time for study time.

This can lead to what is commonly called 'freshman 10', the 10 extra pounds that pile on during that crucial first year.

"Simply giving up meals is not the answer," Ms. Mark continues. "It is vital for the college-bound to maintain good eating habits so that they can function at their full potential, both physically and mentally."

Failure to eat properly can result in a self-made handicap affecting academic performance and, perhaps, leading to health problems in later years. The answer is to learn to make intelligent food choices. There's no reason for students to avoid joining the crowd for an occasional bite at favorite college meeting spots, but if weight is a problem, then simple care over what is ordered can make all the difference.

"A hamburger or frankfurter broiled on a rack, a glass of milk and a salad are available at a lot of 'fast-food' places now, and makes a good meal. Fruit for dessert satisfies both the need for sweets and the need for fibre," explains Ms. Mark. "But fried foods, special sauces laden with fats, or beverages containing sugar will only provide an excess of 'empty' calories — calories that contain little nutritional value."

"College should be a time for expanding one's horizons, not one's waistline," concludes Ms. Mark. "A sensible, nutritious, low calorie, well balanced eating plan should help insure both."

MR. AND MRS. HENRY GOLKA

Golkas celebrate 40th anniversary

Forty years of marriage for Henry and Stella Golka were celebrated Aug. 31 with a dinner party at the home of Pete and Mary Korgal of Hull Road, Belleville.

Mrs. Golka was Stella Dunayczan when she exchanged wedding vows in New Boston in 1940. Three sons were born to the couple: Stanley of Dexter; Tom of Manchester and Bob of Tipton, the latter being the father of their only grandchild, Jesse.

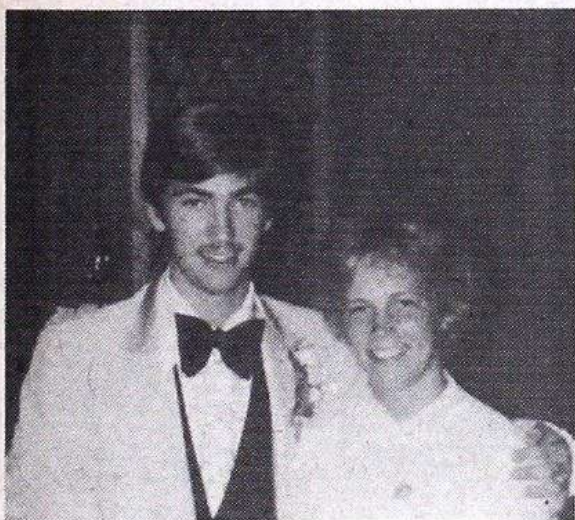

Mr. Golka retired from the Ford Motor Company in May of 1978 after 30 years of service. A veteran of World War II, he served four years in the U.S. Navy. With the exception of two years employment at Coy Kendall Greenhouses, Mrs. Golka has been a homemaker. She and her husband are members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Golkas currently reside on Karr Road but are selling their farm and will move to their home on Lake Columbia.

About 50 relatives and friends congratulated the anniversary pair arriving at the party from Dearborn, Hamtramck and Belleville. Hostesses at the party were Mrs. Golka's two sisters, Frances Korgal of Belleville and Jean Wenderski of Hamtramck. Laurie Korgal and Susie Schultz were responsible for decorations and Nina Schultz made and decorated a ruby-accented wedding cake.

Couple wed at St. Aloysius

Kathleen Theresa McPhee, the daughter of Michael and Beverly McPhee on 15803 Springhill, Romulus, became the bride of David Joseph Williams on Aug. 16 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church. Double ring vows were exchanged at three in the afternoon, before an altar adorned with white mums and blue daisies.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID WILLIAMS

Music by Patrick Foly included "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a nylon and lace creation designed with a pearl-studded bodice, high collar and long sleeves.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a little crescent lace headpiece with a bouquet of white roses, blue and white carnations and baby's breath completing her ensemble.

As her sister's only attendant, Vicky McPhee of Romulus appeared in a cotton gown imprinted with tiny flowers in contrasting blues, her bouquet being comprised of white carnations and daisies.

The bridegroom, the son of Gerald W. and Virginia Williams of McGregor, Minn., asked his brother, Daryle Davis of McGregor, to serve as best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Kevin McPhee, and a cousin, Joe Caton of Redford.

Nicholas Proffitt, the 2-year-old son of Marie Proffitt, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

Biddle Hall was the setting for the reception which followed. Some 115 guests were greeted by Mrs. McPhee in a cocoa brown and beige formal gown and Mrs. Williams in a 3-piece purple and white suit. Both mothers were honored with white orchids.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Ramada Inn and on Aug. 21 departed for Sacramento, Calif. where they are serving with the U.S. Air Force at McClellan Air Force Base.

The rehearsal dinner, held at the Woodstone Inn of Belleville, was hosted by the bride's parents.

WOTM sets fall plans

The publicity committee of the Women of the Moose held a meeting Sept. 2 at the Moose Lodge. Marlene Manier, chairman, submitted a letter to the Men of the Moose asking them to serve the enrollment dinner on Sept. 20 and also to request a card party on Sept. 30. The public will be welcome to attend the latter.

The Friday night fish fries will begin Sept. 12 and will feature a special each week along with the regular menu.

potpourri

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Last week was one of those times when I found myself forever asking "Why? Why? Why?" -- aloud -- talking to myself all the while, of course! And then wondering, "WHY am I talking to myself?" But since I know I'm not alone in that department, I decided to list a few of those questionable instances just to let you readers know you're not going bananas alone.

Why is it, for instance, I have my worst (awful, rotten) game of the year when I'm golfing on Ladies Day with the club champion in my foursome?

Why is it all the traffic lights are red the one day I'm really late for an appointment?

Why is it I always find a hole in the toe of my last pair of nylons when I'm planning to wear open-toed shoes?

Why is it the one thing I break in two years is completely irreplaceable?

Why is it the restaurant I thought was so great the first time I visited it "with the girls" turns out to be so awful when I take my husband there?

Why is it the umbrella is always in the "other car" on the day it decides to rain?

Why is it the ballpoint always run dry when I'm taking down information on the telephone?

Why is it I always have such a tough time writing a lead for "potpourri"?

The following is a recipe from the American Dairy Association which, interestingly, provides us with an unheated counterpart for the famous Reuben sandwich. This one's labeled "Cool Rachel" and what appealed to this palate was the proxy for the sauerkraut which makes the Reuben so delicious.

Being that sauerkraut and I don't exactly "click" (and I'm mad for corned beef) this is one I'll definitely experiment with some weekend when I need an easy meal.

Yogurt Slaw, which sets Rachel apart from her old buddy, is not at all difficult to make. And here's what Rachel's all about.

COOL RACHEL SANDWICH

Yogurt slaw
8 slices large size rye bread
8 slices corned beef (or more, as you please)
8 slices Swiss cheese

Spread bread with softened butter. Spread a generous 1/4 cup yogurt slaw on each of 4 slices bread; top each with 2 slices corned beef and 2 slices Swiss cheese. Close sandwiches with remaining bread.

YOGURT SLAW: Blend together 1/2 cup plain yogurt, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1/2 to 1 teaspoon seasoned salt and 1/2 teaspoon finely grated onion. Toss with 1-1/2 cups shredded cabbage. Chill to blend flavors. Yield: 1-1/4 cups.

And -- having mentioned the word "Reuben", did you know that The Reuben is a statuette modeled after the Academy Award Oscar and named after Rube Goldberg who designed it?

It is awarded annually by the National Cartoonist Society to an outstanding cartoonist, often a comic strip artist like Al Capp, Walt Kelly or Charles Schulz.

Rube Goldberg was the creator of several comic strips and later an editorial cartoonist. His claim to fame rests on his satire of technology through a comic strip which ran intermittently for half a century, from 1914 to 1964. It illustrated the inventions of Professor Lucifer Gorgonzola Butts: absurdly complicated contraptions designed to accomplish the simplest tasks. The professor's inventions were symbols, his creator wrote, of "man's capacity for exerting maximum effort to accomplish minimal results."

Two very good novels recently chalked up by yours truly were "Random Winds" and "The Cradle Will Fall" -- as different from each other as caviar and champagne yet with the style and class one associates with both.

Belva Plain, as in her first bit, "Evergreen", writes a straightforward story of a family, this one three generations of the Farrells, all doctors -- a sad, often poignant piece with no great plot.

With settings in upstate New York, London and the French Riviera, the tale is about a man's devotion to his work and the love of the one woman he can't have. Martin Farrell, who is the nucleus of the saga, is a neurosurgeon whose love of Mary Fern brings the ruination of both his marriages and eventually involves his doctor daughter, Claire.

Plain writes unhesitatingly and in a manner to which the average reader can completely relate. What's especially refreshing is reading a top-selling author who doesn't wallow in orgiastic sex scenes or four-letter words. Her story is completely devoid of both affording the reader an all too rare opportunity to use his imagination. What a pleasant change of pace from the Robbinses, Wallaces, Sheldons and Puzos who repeatedly lace their chapters with explicit sex and offensive language. Hurrah for Belva!

And -- if you're a murder mystery buff, Mary Higgins Clark has another of her excellent works out for your leisure hours. "The Cradle Will Fall" lets you know immediately who the culprit is and you follow him murder by murder as he eliminates those in his path to medical glory.

As in "A Stranger is Watching" and "Where Are the Children", Clark maintains that edge-of-your-seat, can't-put-it-down interest in her latest work. And, again, it was pleasant to know she doesn't find it necessary to revolve around bedrooms or motels to keep fans coming back for more of her stuff.

She's one of those writers whose name I always look for in announcements of new books.

And it was, for that very same reason, I put myself on the library's reserved list for Jack Higgins' latest publication. But "Solo", the third in my recent string of rain day perusals, was rather a let-down. Guess I just equate everything he does with his first biggie, "The Eagle Has Landed."

Somehow it seemed just a bit far-fetched to make a world-famous concert pianist's second life that of an international hit-man. Cold and unfeeling (except for his mastery of the keyboard), his nemesis, a soldier's soldier and magnificent fighter set on revenge, turns out to be equally so in his relentless pursuit of the "Cretan Lover" (as the musician is labeled.) I found the characters too contrived and stereotyped and his attempt to add romance completely unreal. Also had the impression he put too little thought into "Solo" -- hurried to complete it!

A brief novel, a mere 249 pages, it will fill the bill for you if Higgins is one of your "musts". And, incidentally, he also pens his stuff under his real name, Harry Patterson, with two books to his credit there.

THE BOTTOM LINE: The height of impudence is the secretary who comes to work very late and then complains about missing her morning coffee break.

FICTION

"The Power Players" by Arelo Sederberg. In this powerful novel by a former public relations man for Howard Hughes, three brilliant young corporation executives fight it out in a murderous power play for the presidency of one of the world's largest conglomerates.

"The Love Talker" by Elizabeth Peters. With breathtaking terror, the author takes the reader on a journey of fear through the dark, hidden country of fairyland, a land populated by the nightmare creations of fable and mythology, creatures all the more dreadful because they are part of every reader's childhood memories.

"Glitter and Ash" by Dennis Smith. A sudden fire at the opening of the Club Sophia, New York's chicest discotheque, has taken the lives of 43 of the international set's wealthiest and most fashionable members. It's a clear case of arson. But who set the Sophia fire and why? More importantly, can the arsonist be caught before he strikes again?

BIOGRAPHY

"My Many Years" by Arthur

Rubinstein. With the same charm, candor, total recall and brilliance as a raconteur that made "My Young Years" a best-selling delight, the great pianist Arthur Rubinstein now regales us with a lavish account of the 64 years since.

"The Roosevelt Chronicles" by Nathan Miller. Patriots and poltroons, inventors and country squires, reformers and machine politicians, saints and sinners -- Nathan Miller tells the story of these self-made aristocrats who were the stewards of a nation, whose personal stamp has reflected and influenced America for 300 years.

Dear Oldsmobile Owner,

As you probably know, the Oldsmobile dealership in Wayne is now closed. I would like to take this opportunity to invite you to our Dealership for all of your automotive needs.

Regardless of where you purchased your Oldsmobile, we will be happy to honor your new car warranty. We have an excellent service department with well qualified, factory trained service personnel to take care of any problem you may be having with your car. We also have a modern, well equipped collision department that can handle a minor scratch as well as a major collision repair.

In the event you are not acquainted with our company, we have been an Oldsmobile dealership for over thirty years, and in the same location for over fifteen years. Ours is a family owned and run business with three generations of Charnocks active in the business. We are located on Michigan Avenue, just one block west of Telegraph Road.

We became one of the nation's largest Oldsmobile dealerships (ranked 77th nationally) by trying to satisfy our customers, winning many awards for service excellence, and having a long time reputation for selling only fine, well reconditioned used cars and being very competitive in our pricing on new and used cars.

Please come in and give us a try, we think you will like us.

Cordially,

Herb Charnock

Matthau scores again in "Hopscotch"

By J.T. YURKO
Special to Playtime

HOPSCOTCH, from Avco Embassy Pictures. Directed by Ronald Neame, screenplay by Brian Garfield and Bryan Forbes. Starring Walter Matthau, Glenda Jackson, Sam Waterson.

It has been said that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing, but in the world of international espionage, too much knowledge can also be hazardous to one's health.

Walter Matthau portrays Miles Kendig, one of the CIA's top men in the field who suddenly finds himself ousted by his desk-sitting bosses. These are members of the spy hierarchy who have devised international schemes including many of which fall under the heading of "dirty tricks."

Matthau does not take his forced retirement lying down, but instead begins detailing some of the CIA's — and the KGB's — and British Intelligence's, etc., more embarrassing moments, as for instance, who sent the box of exploding cigars to Fidel Castro?

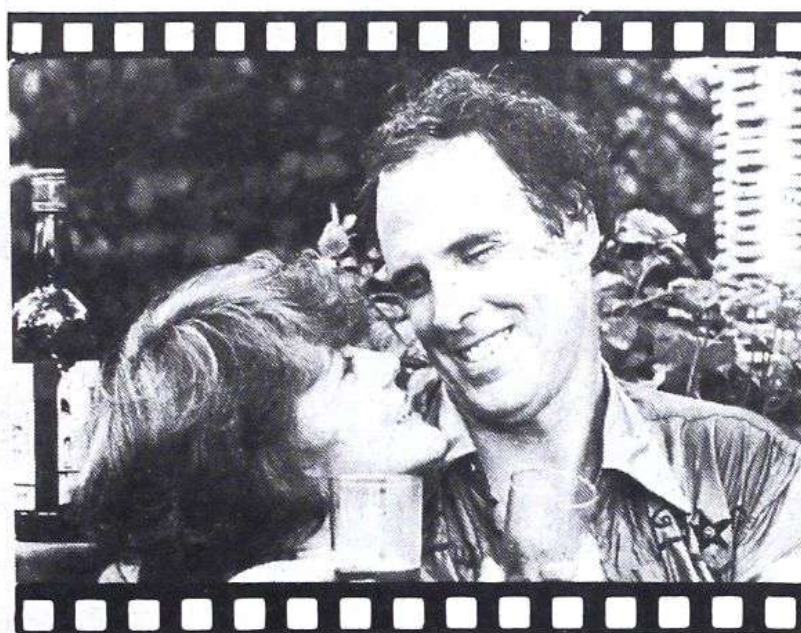

Matthau now hopscotches his way across the globe, mailing chapters of his poison-pen novel to the intelligence (?) heads of each government, thus commencing an international cat-and-mouse game where the mouse often has the cat running in circles.

Many of you who follow the headlines will recognize this story as being similar to that of Philip Agee, an ex-CIA agent who wrote an expose, naming names, of his spying career. The film "Hopscotch" however is based on the novel of the same name written by Bryan Forbes, and written well before Agee's actual recounting.

Forbes co-authored the screenplay with Brian Garfield, and has helped to create one of the most delightful films of the year. Matthau may not look like James Bond but he's every bit as crafty, and still he retains an innocence that is endearing as it is charming.

Glenda Jackson is a figure who I would not doubt for one moment could be a spy of no small stature. And when she's together with Matthau, they make a formidable couple. Fast-paced and simply fun, "Hopscotch" is a bright and bouncy game of intrigue that is really as simple as 'hide-and-seek.' You would be well advised to seek out this film.

Bruce Dern reaches male menopause.

Walter Matthau is a crafty agent.

"Middle Age Crazy" misses the mark

By J.T. YURKO
Special to Playtime

'Middle Age Crazy' 20th Century Fox. Directed by John Trent, screenplay by Carl Kleinschmitt. Starring Bruce Dern, Ann-Margaret, Graham Jarvis. Rated R.

Bruce Dern is the guy who goes "Middle Age Crazy," and certainly with just provocation.

After all, he's just turned 40 (what a catastrophe!), he's living in a home that's worth at least a quarter of a million bucks (what a pity), he's the head of a thriving construction company (too bad), and worst of all he's married to Ann-Margaret whose faithful but energetic sexual appetite seems insatiable. My word, no wonder he begins to act a little strange. Let's all hope things improve for this poor man.

For some reason the topic of male menopause or middle age crisis has recently become something of a film genre unto itself. In just the past year we have seen such films as "The Last Married Couple in America," "Serial," and certainly the most successful of the lot, Blake Edwards' "10." "Middle Age Crazy" follows the formula set for such films, that of a man who reaches 40 and finds his youth slipping quickly away.

Like Dudley Moore in "10" he pursues a fantasy girl, in this case she's a Dallas Cowboy cheerleader. He foresees the drabness of his Oldsmobile for a $40,000 Porsche, and chucks the three-piece suit for cowboy shirts and boots.

But if Blake Edwards' movie "10" can be rated a 10, this film rates about a 3.

For most of us, coping with the phone bill and gas station visits is a struggle in itself, so it's hard to empathize with someone who, as the film presents him, just about has it all.

Somehow in an otherwise lackluster role Bruce Dern once again comes up shining. He may not (yet) be a superstar, but he is easily one of the best actors working today.

He and the film are at their best in several "Walter Mitty"-like daydream sequences in which he imagines himself fulfilling a fantasy or two or throwing etiquette to the wind.

For the most part, however, the film presents only predictable situations and passable dialogue that offer few insights or a fresh approach.

BUSINESS

Video Village celebrates grand opening

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Playtime Coordinator

It isn't often that a purchase turns into a business.

But that's what happened after Ron Manley's family found hours of entertainment each week with their new video recorder. This experience prompted the opening of Video Village at 849 Sumpter Road in Belleville's Belle Plaza.

"We found that there was no outlet for video equipment in this area," Manley explained. "So we started one."

As expected, movies and video recorders are two of the most popular items at Video Village.

Quasar and RCA video machines range in price from $600 to $1400 while the films retail in the $54 to $79 bracket, according to Manley.

Movies such as "Coal Miner's Daughter,"

"The Rose," "Breaking Away" and "Animal House" can be rented for $5 the first day and $1 for every succeeding day. Those who join the Movie Club, whose members exchange video cassettes, will receive their first film rental at no charge through October 18.

"The machines have so many uses," said the owner. "You can make your own movies. Or you can record movies to watch when you want to—there's six hours recording time on a tape.

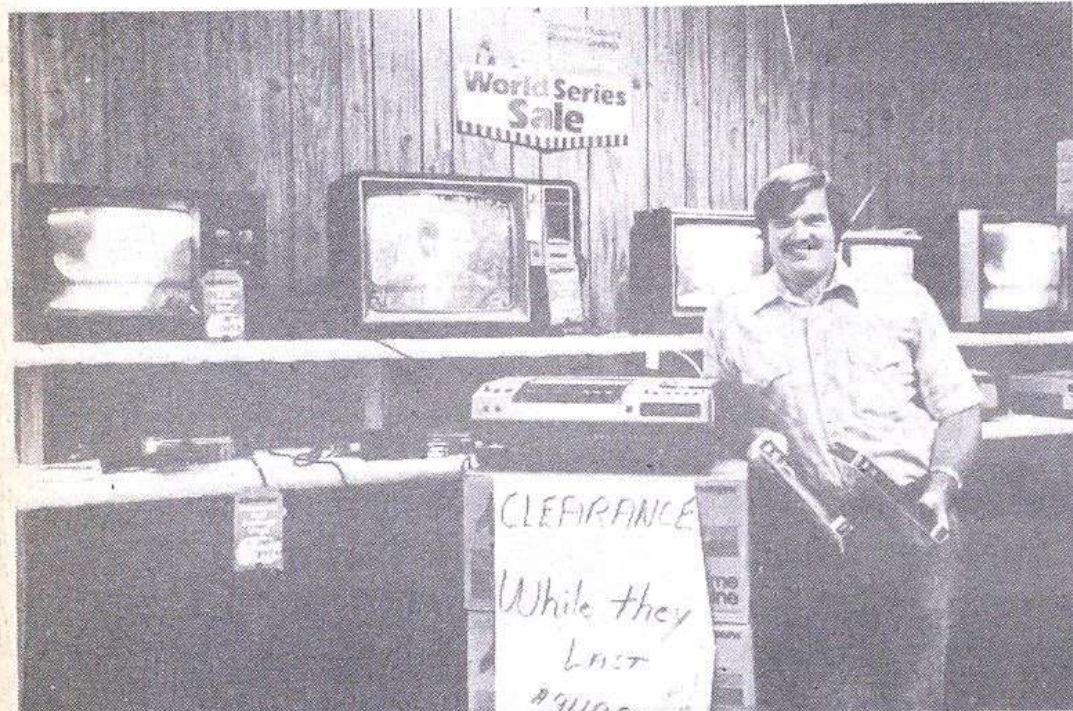

"We used our machine to record a graduation in the family."

Video Village also features portable color televisions, cameras, blank tapes, tape storage cases and various video accessories. Blank tapes are priced from $13.95 to $19.95 and include name brands such as TDK, FCA, Sony, Scotch, Quasar and Maxell. Tapes can be used at least 500 times, Manley reported.

"Our kids (Becky, nine, and Ronnie, seven) are movie freaks," declared Linda Manley, who helps her husband manage the store. "They like to watch a movie over and over. And we've had plenty of fun taking movies of them."

Business hours at Video Village are 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. A drawing will be held on October 18 to award a free movie to the winner of a contest being sponsored as part of the store's grand opening celebration.

Ron Manley turned fun into a business.

Hilberry Theatre opens season

Wayne State University Hilberry Theatre opens its 18th season of repertory Friday with a revival of last season's popular "Wild Oats," a rollicking 18th-century comedy by John O'Keefe, which runs through December 6. The opening weekend performances are presented as part of Wayne State University's campus-wide Septemberfest.

The plot of "Wild Oats" centers on dashing Jack Rover, a young actor who assumes the identity of his friend, Harry Thunder, in order to court a young heiress, Lady Amaranth. Complications arise when Sir George Thunder, Harry's blustering father, arrives to promote marriage between Lady Amaranth and his son, and the real Harry turns up while sowing his own "wild oats."

"Wild Oats" is one of two productions to be held over from last year's Hilberry roster, along with "Macbeth," which opens on Oct. 17. Other Hilberry productions this year are Shakespeare's "Love's Labor's Lost," opening Oct. 15; Bella and Sam Spewack's "Boy Meets Girl," opening Nov. 19; George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" opening Jan. 14; William Congreve's "Love for Love," opening Feb. 18; a world premiere of Tim Kelly's "Bloody Jack" on March 25; and Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30" opening on April 1. Tickets for "Wild Oats" and other Hilberry productions are available at the Hilberry Theatre box office at Cass and Hancock (577-2972) and at Hudson's and most area colleges and universities.

What's That Sound?

By STEVE O'LEARY

HOT LIPS

"Hold On To Me" b/w "Here Comes That Girl"

Although the band Hot Lips is relatively new, all five members have years of experience under their belts from "paying their dues" on the local bar circuit. And it was time well spent, I might add, because as this record shows, they know a good hook when they hear it, and their impeccable arrangements are proof positive that they know what to do with them.

"Hold On To Me" is a radio natural; a teen ode asking for a "Little girl and a record machine" who'll "Hold on, hold on to me." Johnny Ryan's good-time keyboards mesh well with the playful bass riffs of Artie Wolff, and are accented by Frankie St. Mark's guitar work. Add Mike ("Muke") Thomas' powerful drumming and the stage is set for Peter St. Mark's irresistible vocals. Framing the song is some nice harmonica work, which unfortunately is left uncredited on the sleeve.

On the flip of this double-A-sided single is "Here Comes That Girl," and it's every bit as good as its companion piece. Combining the best of Tom Petty and the Romantics, the song is also reminiscent of the Byrds, Ziggy-era David Bowie, and quite a few others, while still maintaining a distinct sound. They don't copy their influences, they learn from them. Frankie St. Mark's guitar playing is extremely tasteful here, as he exhibits the rate talent for knowing what not to play, as well as what to play.

As I've stated before, I believe Hot Lips is one of the best bands in the area, and their songwriting is unsurpassed, as just one listen will have you humming the song for days.

FLIRT

"Faster Than You"

Flirt's new E.P. (extended play) contains four songs, all of them top-notch, and all impeccably performed. All were penned by head honchos Skid Marx (who plays quite an animated bass) and his lovely vocalist wife, Rockee, who hits high notes the Vienna Boy's Choir only dreams of.

Of the four songs here, "You Burn Me Up" stands out the most in my mind, perhaps due to the fact I've heard the band do it live, where it's intention was to rock the roof off, whereas on record it's primarily acoustic. This softer version brings the melody and hooks into the forefront, and serves as a strong reminder that good rock and roll doesn't necessarily mean loud and raucous.

However, if you prefer loud and raucous, it's also here, proving once and for all that it is possible to have your cake and eat it too. "Faster Than You" is a "love" song where the girl tells the guy that if he messes around, well, so can she.

As good as those two tunes may be, the others, "I'm Not Forgettin'" and "DMA" are just as good.

In the last verse of "I'm Not Forgettin'" Rockee sings "Soon my day is comin'." Judging by this record, she must be speaking for the entire band. They're doing more than flirting with success, they're courting it.

Wings searching for a Billy Sims talent

By DENNIS DAVIDSON
Special to Playtime

Give the City of Romulus an "assist" if the Detroit Red Wings gain a berth in the 1980-81 National Hockey League play-offs.

The City of Romulus, along with the Red Wing "For 'Em" Club and the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association, sponsored a charity softball day last June at Elmer Johnson Park. Among the participants was a team made up of members of the Detroit Red Wings Hockey Club.

To quote Coach Ted Lindsay, "We've got a lot of comradery; that's something we didn't have last year. The softball team we had this summer helped a lot."

The Red Wing training camp opened officially on Sept. 16 at 10:17 a.m. when 8th round draft pick John Beukeboom was the first to take the ice at Cobo Arena. Cobo is the training site for the Wings this year after several years at Kalamazoo.

The first shift of camp this year belongs to rookies, minor leaguers and fringe players looking for another shot at the NHL. Of the thirty players on the ice, most will never see the "light of day" in the big leagues.

One of the questions being thrown at Lindsay all day was "Do you have another Billy Sims out there?" Lindsay wistfully responded, "I hope so!"

The fact of the matter is that there is a Sims-type player in a Red Wing uniform in the person of second year pro Mike Foligno.

Last year as a rookie big Mike scored 30 goals, added 35 assists, while serving 109 minutes in the sin bin. However, unlike Sims, Mike's enthusiasm for the game did not rub off on his teammates. The big question is: what happened?

Romulus recreation director Dennis Davidson knows his hockey. This year Davidson begins his 8th season as a press box assistant for the Red Wings organization. Davidson recently visited the Wings training camp and filed this report.

When last we saw our hapless Wings, the month was April and our boys had just wrapped up another dismal season. They finished 13th over-all in the league in scoring, 14th in goals against, and 18th in the standings in a league that only allows 16 teams into the playoffs. The team boasted six 30-goal scorers, and a young hard-hitting defense that alone should have been enough to compete in the NHL.

Where do we place the blame? Some of the players placed the blame on coach Bobby Kromm, saying they had no respect for the man. This still may be true, but doesn't one still play for one's own self-respect and pride?

The real mystery lies in the fact that they could not win on their home ice. On the road, they were second only to division leader Montreal. While at home, they were the second worst team in the NHL winning 14, while losing 21 and tying 5 for 33 points. The Colorado Rockies was the only team more inept, recording only 32 points during their home "advantage."

Maybe the European style of play that Kromm wanted had a lot to do with their gloomy season. Newly-appointed Director of Hockey Operations Jimmy Skinner seems to think so. He claims there were not enough "muckers," the guys who like the rough going in the corners while trying to dig the puck out, and it shows in his draft choices.

Led by first round pick Mike Blaisdell, Skinner opted for players whose average height is 6-foot-1 inch and weigh 187 pounds. "Kids," exclaims Skinner, "will be the key to this year's training camp."

"The players that lacked experience last season will be coming back and are now the full-fledged veterans. We're counting on these kids to carry the load for the younger contingent coming in this camp. Players like Foligno, Willie Huber and Jim Korn ... they're now the veterans and we consider them a very important part of our entire camp and organization," Skinner said.

There will be no excuses this year. There is a new coach in Hall-of-Famer Ted Lindsay, who will be going back to the old style "grind 'em out" type of hockey. The European game is a thing of the past. Joe Louis Arena is now "home". A lot of the younger players have never seen the inside of the old Olympia.

To be contenders this year they will have to be winners at home, and aggressive hockey will have to return to Detroit.

I wonder if Billy Sims can play hockey? Better still, can Tommy Hearn skate?

Fishing Lines

By BOB SAWITSKI

As I mentioned in last week's column, hunting seasons of all sorts will soon be starting. Most angler-hunters will be packing away their rods and reels in favor of rifles and shotguns. But it doesn't have to be that way.

When you go hunting up north, why not take along your fishing tackle? A hunting-fishing trip for a great expedition.

When it's time to traipse through the northern swamps and forests in search of partridge and woodcock, it's also time to cast spoons and spinners for spawning salmon and trout. There are some excellent areas north of here where a sportsman can shoot birds by day and catch fish in the evening.

And let's not forget the many fine walleye and smallmouth bass lakes located in prime hunting country. A few of these bodies of water include Higgins and Houghton lakes in Roscommon County, Lake Mitchell in Wexford County, Manistee Lake in Kalkaska County, Elk and Torch lakes in Grand Traverse and Antrim counties, and Otsego County's Otsego Lake.

Even if you do exchange your fishing rod for a firearm, you can make your next fishing season better by going hunting and trapping this autumn.

Fly fishermen know that the feathers and fur from many species of wild game are used to make artificial flies. Of course, synthetic materials are available to replace natural materials, but the real things are best.

Hair from the bodies and tails of deer, moose, fox, muskrat, beaver, woodchuck, bear and squirrels are used for dubbing bodies and making tails and wings on many artificial flies and lures. Hair from the tails of squirrels also comes in handy to dress spinnerbaits and leadhead jigs.

If you don't tie your own flies and bass lures, you can make some extra money by saving the tails from the squirrels you shoot and sending them to the company that makes the popular Mepps Spinner. For information on what they pay and for shipping instructions, write to Mepps, Box 1080, Antigo, Wisconsin 54409. It's also possible to exchange tails for merchandise.

If you do tie your own flies, choose carefully the furs and hair for the bodies of your flies.

For the bodies of dry flies, the best furs to use are those that don't easily absorb water. Most of these waterproof furs come from animals that have contact with water. The selection includes beaver, muskrat, fox and raccoon. The best fur dubbing bodies is usually found close to the skin. Deer hair is good to use for bass bugs because the strands are hollow and float easily.

When tying wet flies, use fur that absorbs water quickly. Rabbit and squirrel are excellent for this.

The plumage from just about any male gamebird is suitable for tying flies. Dry flies require feathers that don't absorb water. Use feathers from ducks and other waterfowl for this purpose.

Consequently, gamebirds that don't have much contact with water provide the best feathers for flies that sink. Good choices for this are pheasant, partridge, woodcock, quail and turkeys.

ARIES March 21-April 20

There are certain things you can't hide from and this week you have to face them or fail! The moment of truth occurs early in the week, the end of it and weekend is fine for recovering.

TAURUS April 21-May 21

Don't expect or even accept favors without offering, or insisting on returning them quickly! You cannot work alone this week, accept the help offered.

GEMINI May 22-June 21

If you can't make up your mind about something pressing, then by all means enlist the aid of someone who is more sure of himself. Don't postpone a decision any longer.

CANCER June 22-July 23

Petty jealousy flourishes this week since you aren't quite secure or confident in yourself. Fight the urge to defend yourself, do what you know best and right.

LEO July 24-August 23

Try to diversify this week, attempt new areas and start new projects. You've been tempted with this idea before, now is the perfect time to give it a try. Trust your first impression.

VIRGO August 24-Sept. 23

You don't know it all and you shouldn't profess to this week. It's better to have an expert opinion than chance a failure or setback on your own. Weekend is great for socializing.

LIBRA Sept. 24-Oct. 23

Listen to what your dreams are telling you. You don't need an interpreter, take them at face value. The beginning of this week is much more 'full' than weekend.

SCORPIO Oct. 24-Nov. 22

You're in the public eye early in the week and you fall into the background as the week progresses. Take care not to demand the spotlight, it only tends to point out your faults at this time.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 23-Dec. 21

You start this week off on a high note but it settles down into a lull around Wednesday. Get work caught up early and relax as the week nears an end. Friends are especially highlighted.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 20

Don't make any plans this week that can't be changed easily. Very little is due to go as planned and you must have extra space in order to avoid complications. Take things easy.

AQUARIUS Jan. 21-Feb. 19

You discover more than you ever asked to know this week and it could prove disheartening. Give the person in question the benefit of the doubt and let the relationship continue.

PISCES Feb. 20-March 20

Don't refuse any invitations this week, you may just stumble on important people who take an interest. Be at your best in every area! Weekend sees you really shining bright.
